Secretary of War Good In "Dangerous Condition"

HOOVER AIDE IS FIGHTING FOR HIS LIFE

Temperature Rises After Appendix Is Removed.

HAS "FAIR NIGHT"

Despite Waning Strength, He Thinks About Business.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Secretary of War James W. Good was in a "dangerous condition" today at Walter Reed hospital, following an operation yesterday to remove a perforated appendix.

Secretary Visits Hospital. No effort was made by either the physicians nor hospital authorities to minimize the seriousness of his case.

It was stated at 10 o'clock that the secretary had passed "a fair night" and that his condition "was as good as could be expected."

His temperature started rising this morning, which had been anticipated by the physicians because of the nature of the case.

Despite the seriousness of his condition, the secretary was able today to think about some unfinished business at the war department.

When John W. Martyn, his secretary, went to the hospital this morning, Good sent word to him through Mrs. Good that he wanted several unfinished matters at the department attended to.

Cabinet Officer is 63. Any operation is a serious matter for one of his age, 63, and the

CRITICALLY ILL

Secretary of War James W. Good is waging a game battle against death at the Walter Reed hospital, Washington, today. He is suffering from peritonitis which developed following an appendix operation yesterday.

JOE M'GINNITY, "IRON MAN" OF BASEBALL, DIES

Famous Pitcher Succumbs in Home in Brooklyn.

ILL LONG TIME

His Vitality Source Of Wonder to Doctors.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Joe ("Iron Man") McGinnity, a famous pitcher of the New York Giants and other National league clubs years ago and one of the immortals of baseball, died this morning at the home of his daughter in Brooklyn after a lingering illness.

The famous pitcher had been ill for a long time and, since August 22 last, when he failed to rally from an operation for tumor, had been given up by his physicians. His vitality was the source of unending wonder to the doctors who attended him.

Time after time, from the day the doctors decided death was only a matter of time, the "iron man" appeared to be sinking, only to rally from a temporary weakness and continue his fight to live.

The end came a few minutes after 6 o'clock this morning. Like one falling asleep McGinnity gave up his fight.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Roll Call Meeting Here Friday Night

Plans for the annual Red Cross roll call, which will open on Monday, November 25, will be discussed at a public meeting in the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

Call for the meeting was issued today by City Solicitor Frank H. Hoover, chairman of the East Liverpool Red Cross chapter. Fred E. Spaulding, of Washington, D. C., Red Cross representative, will attend the meeting.

Albert E. Froesch has been named campaign chairman. An effort will be made to enroll 2,500. Lectures and demonstrations in first aid and life saving were given by Spaulding in the district yesterday and today.

Paul O'Brien Named Band Drum Major

Paul O'Brien, son of the Rev. and Mrs. A. H. O'Brien, St. Clair avenue, has been appointed band drum major at Denison college, at Granville, where he is a member of the freshman class. He is a student in the College of Arts.

STOCK PRICES RALLY AS TAX SLASH LOOMS

Steel and Union Carbide Open Higher.

OTHERS ADVANCE

Trading Heavy as Optimism Prevails in Market.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN. NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Stock prices rallied on the New York exchange at the opening today on the heels of optimistic overnight developments. One of the bullish factors was the general approval expressed by business men, bankers and brokers of the action of the administration in Washington in announcing a proposal to reduce corporate and personal income taxes as a means of further strengthening the position of American business.

Ten thousand shares of United States Steel, one of the market leaders, opened 3 1/2 points higher at 155. Ten thousand shares of Union Carbide opened at 64 7/8, up 4 5/8.

Morgan Stocks Make Gains. Two of the Morgan stocks made substantial gains. They were standard brands, 30,000 shares of which sold at 28, up 7 points, and Johns Manville which advanced 10 points to 105.

General Electric jumped 16 points to 189 in a 5,000-share transaction. American Can moved up 1 1/2 points to 100 1/2 on a 10,000 share deal.

Practically the entire list was higher—many issues substantially so. The few stocks that declined were only fractionally lower. It was a decidedly "bullish" opening after a series of "bear" markets.

Trading was very heavy at the outset, the market appeared to have better buying support than for a long time. Twenty thousand shares of General Foods opened at 40 1/2, up 2 1/2; 10,000 shares of Radio at 32, up 4 1/2, and 4,000 shares of Simmons Company at 63 1/2, up 3 1/2.

Standard Oil Advances Cash. Sales for the first half hour totaled 1,732,000 shares compared with 1,805,000 the corresponding period yesterday.

Announcement was made by the Standard Oil Company of New York that it will advance to its employees in cash, subject to their

Two Guilty Pleas Are Not Accepted

Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court, Lisbon, yesterday refused to accept pleas of guilty to indictments of larceny, returned at the recent session of the grand jury against William Meador and Charles Grimm, Teggaraon men.

They are charged with having robbed stores in Leetonia and North Georgetown.

The men, who face three indictments, are held under $7,000 bond each. They pleaded not guilty when arraigned Monday.

Judge Lones has appointed Attorney H. L. McCarthy, Salem, to represent the defendants. Their case will probably go before the court next week.

Lions Club Will Form Salem Unit

Lions club will hold their weekly dinner-meeting in Salem next Thursday night, was decided at a business session in the Travelers' hotel last night. The visit will climax a drive by the local club to organize a unit in the north county town. Arrangements for the meeting are in charge of Dr. C. A. Shafter, Daniel Savelberg, L. M. Capehart, Harry S. Lindell and W. S. Foulks.

Plans for an oratorical contest for eighth grade pupils were discussed last night. E. W. Shirley was appointed chairman of the committee.

Norman McFarland Is Named Sergeant

Patrolman Norman McFarland today was appointed desk sergeant at the city hall, succeeding the late Henry W. Auderheide, who retired a few months before his death.

Appointment of McFarland was made after Patrolman James Haley declined the post. Haley will continue to serve on the street.

Patrolman Herman Roth will be substituted desk sergeant, working on rest days for Sergeant George Toland and McFarland.

STUNNED BY EXPOSE

Marjorie, 13; Mary, 10, and Shirley, 8, try to console their mother Mrs. Madge Ragan, who is grief stricken over the revelation that her husband, William S. Ragan (inset), manager of a Chicago manufacturing concern has confessed that he is the man who attempted to hold up a bank at Fisher, Ill.

Broker Is Rescued After Bridge Leap

Stock Market Losses Blamed as Man Jumps Into Schuylkill River; Another Held in Embezzlement.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Lawrence Fava, insurance broker, leaped from the Girard avenue bridge into the Schuylkill river early today in an unsuccessful attempt to end his life. Stock market losses are believed to have prompted his attempted suicide.

He was rescued by park guards and taken to a hospital from which he was discharged after treatment.

The declining market also caused the arrest of an unnamed Philadelphia man on the charge of embezzlement of funds amounting to between $250,000 and $300,000 from a well-known brokerage house in Walnut street.

The man, whose name the police refused to reveal, was cloaked with Safety Director L. B. Schofield, Major Anthony A. Drexell Bidde, Philadelphia clubman, and Inspector of Detectives William Connelly.

Following the questioning of the prisoner, he was placed in a cell.

Edward Hassey, 65, Los Angeles, Dies

Edward Hassey, 65, former East Liverpool confectioner, is dead in Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. Hassey conducted a candy business in Fifth and Sixth streets here for many years, later locating in Los Angeles. He is survived by his widow, Ella Hassey and two sons, Charles and Frank, all of Los Angeles.

Mellon Will Ask $160,000,000 Reduction In Taxes At December Session of Congress

Cut Individual and Corporation Levies, He Urges.

By Robert S. Thornburgh. WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Despite the loss of billions of dollars on the stock market in the last few weeks the county will be offered another substantial tax reduction at the December congress, if the recommendations of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon are carried out.

And the reaction today from Mellon's announcement that, with the approval of President Hoover, he would ask congress to cut the normal individual and corporation tax one per cent, with an aggregate relief of $160,000,000 indicated that congress, Democratic and Republican, would "go along" with the secretary of the treasury.

There was tendency in some congressional circles to run the reduction up to $200,000,000 or more, feeling that final estimates on governmental receipts will be greater than were contemplated by Mellon in his announcement.

POTTERS CITE $37,908 SAVING ON NEW KILN

N. B. O. P. President Explains Laughlin Dispute.

ANSWERS WELLS

Standing Committee Problem, Duffy Insists.

Citing a saving of $37,908 which he says the Homer Laughlin China company has effected at its new No. 8 plant at Newell, through the installation of an automatic conveyor system in the operation of its two blast tunnel kilns, James M. Duffy, president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, today outlined the union's stand in the dispute with the manufacturers which resulted in the closing of the plant Tuesday.

The union leader's statement was an answer to Joseph M. Wells, superintendent of the Nos. 6 and 7 plants and chairman of the labor committee of the United States Potters' association, who, on Tuesday, blamed the Brotherhood and the kilnmen's local union No. 9 for the closing of the No. 8 unit.

The controversy regarding the employment of women in the placing of ware in saggers "should have been submitted to the standing committee," Duffy declared. Should the standing committee fail to arrive at some understanding, the matter should be referred to the labor committee of the United States Potters' association and to the executive board of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, Duffy's statement added.

Union Leader's Statement. Duffy's statement follows: "It was with a very deep feeling of regret that we, as officials of the Brotherhood, read Joseph M. Wells' statement as published in Tuesday evening's issue of the Review, regarding the controversy between the Brotherhood and the Homer Laughlin China company, as regards our contention that only regular kilnmen should be permitted to do the kiln work in connection with the conveyor set-up in the operation of the tunnel kiln at the new No. 8 plant."

"Apparently, whether intended or not, the public is to be misled into believing that we, officials of the National Brotherhood have been guilty of some more or less unethical practices, that we are endeavoring to repudiate an agreement made between an official of the Homer Laughlin company, Mr. McGilivray and myself in that, on that occasion several months ago when Mr. Wells in conference with us advanced what was then contemplated by the building committee of the Homer Laughlin China company, this conveyor set-up, with women displacing men, that we, officials agreed to such an agreement with Mr. Wells and that now we are guilty of refusing to live up to this alleged understanding."

"May I, at the outset, state very emphatically that we did not agree to any such agreement. At this meeting Mr. Wells made reference to a pottery in another city having in operation such a conveyor and using women in place of regular men kilnplacers. Let it be understood that this pottery employing women-placers has no dealings with the Brotherhood but is known as an open or unfair shop. He stated that in the contemplation of the installation of such labor-saving machinery that their firm wished to know what was to be the attitude of the Brotherhood as regards to the employment of women before Mr. McGilivray or I could make any reply to this, Mr. Wells continued: Regardless of

FOUR KILLED WHEN AUTO HITS SIDE OF TRAIN

Fatal Crash Occurs At Indianapolis Early Today.

WOMAN VICTIM

No One Witnesses Collision on Pennsy Road.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Four persons were killed here early today when the automobile in which they were riding ran into the side of a Pennsylvania railroad train.

The dead are: Miss Maude Ellis, Indianapolis. James Trimble, Columbus, O. William Carmichael, Indianapolis. Karl A. Kirscheser, Indianapolis.

Although no one saw the actual collision and the train did not stop the front of the coupe, which was said to have been driven by Kirscheser, was demolished, indicating it had struck the side of the train with some force.

The endorsement preceded an address by Frank Spaulding, Washington, D. C. field representative of the Red Cross.

Guests of the club included A. E. Froesch, roll call chairman; Frank Hoover, chairman of the Red Cross chapter; Mrs. Florence Moss Bowers, secretary, and Mrs. Jeanette Carpenter, nurse.

Plans for the ladies' night party at the Country club next Thursday were outlined.

Spaulding gave a brief resume of the origin and development of the American Red Cross. He explained that during the last year the national chapter had spent a million dollars for ex-service men's relief and more than eight million dollars in disaster relief work.

Dr. Clyde Larkins presided.

Miss O'Donnell Dies in Morgantown

Miss Mary O'Donnell, of Sophia street, died today in the home of her sister, Mrs. M. T. Sullivan, Morgantown, W. Va., where she had been visiting for several weeks. Death was due to complications.

Miss O'Donnell was a member of the St. Aloysius Catholic church. She leaves two brothers, Hugh, Dover, and William, Canton, and two other sisters, Mrs. Charles Wilson and Miss Anna O'Donnell, East Liverpool.

Funeral services will be held in the St. Aloysius church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, in charge of the Rev. Father Thomas E. Walsh.

MAYOR PICKS DIRECTOR FOR TWO-YEAR TERM

Democratic Appointee Has Served Four Years.

FIREMAN CHOSEN

Examination for Three Captaincies Will Be Called.

John W. Moore, service-safety director for the last four years, was today reappointed for another term of two years by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, who begins his third term on January 1. Like the executive, Moore is a Democrat.

Benedum also announced the appointment of Ira H. Brown, 28, of 1642 Pennsylvania avenue, an employee of The Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company, as fireman. Brown whose grade was 95 per cent in the civil service examination, headed three applicants whose names were submitted by the civil service commission. He will succeed Willard B. Thomas, who resigned about three weeks ago to accept a position with the Holland Furnace company. He will assume his duties on November 16 at Central station.

An examination for three captaincies in the fire department will be held shortly. Mayor Benedum announced William Kuhn, Thomas Stivers and Earl Fowles, now serving as captains, were temporary appointees. The examination will be open to all members of the department.

Unbelievers in Christ have become such because they are susceptible to spiritual blindness and, accordingly, qualify for the responsibility of the prevailing darkness in the world," said the Rev. S. E. West, pastor of the Free Methodist church revival, Avondale street, last night.

Four persons accepted the invitation for the altar service at the conclusion of the discourse.

Weather conditions prevented the presence of the Rev. W. B. Ward, of Wellsville. It is expected that he will be present at tonight's meeting.

Free Methodists Attend Revival

Unbelievers in Christ have become such because they are susceptible to spiritual blindness and, accordingly, qualify for the responsibility of the prevailing darkness in the world," said the Rev. S. E. West, pastor of the Free Methodist church revival, Avondale street, last night.

Life Futile, She Jumped. Starvation in War. Why Lions Don't Eat Men. The 77th Generation.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE. Copyright, 1920, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A GIRL of 18, well educated, handsome, hired an airplane and jumped to her death when 2,000 feet up. Her farewell note says "Life is futile, to go on living is wrong," and asks "What shall I find in death?"

WHATEVER she finds, the young lady, on arrival, should not go up in a plane and jump out. She found an interesting world with great possibilities here and should have stayed.

WE ARE here to work, help others around us, and make the world better for those that follow, as our predecessors made it better for us, do our duty, and not ask fate questions.

Fate never answers, earnest work always answers, satisfactorily.

PRESIDENT HOOVER would prevent food blockades, thus ending the waging of war by starvation.

Unlimited food would mean a longer war, more killed. But killing only decimates and affects the living generation. Starvation injures generations unborn. Soldiers are fed, children go hungry.

SCIENCE shows that powerful nations today all descend from cannibals. Under cannibalism the children of strong men and women always had plenty of meat, while Neither can he escape reaping tenfold that which he sows. It is an awful thought for the sinner when he realizes that all the sins he commits will come back to him, wiped out by the blood of Jesus, but consider the joy of the Christian when he reaps the results of his good works. No sacrifice in this life is too great for the reward which is given at the end of the race. No earthly pleasure is worth risking the everlasting punishment which is the lot of the unpentitent."

No Subsidized Press!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE assures the freedom of the press—Public opinion has been freed from the tyranny which denied it the right to pass judgment on public questions.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

WARN COUNTY AUTO OWNERS

"Yellow Sticker" Arrests Ordered Saturday.

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—Captain Wilson C. Price, superintendent of the state highway patrol, Harrisburg, has directed the arrest on Saturday, November 16, all persons operating motor vehicles which do not bear the "approved, inspected" yellow sticker on the windshield. The inspection period which began October 1 will close tomorrow night.

Violators are subject to a fine and suspension of driving privileges for 30 days.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Benjamin C. Eynon, Harrisburg, said today that more than 1,600,000 pleasure automobiles and trucks had been tested, while nearly 300,000 car owners have shown no inclination to obey the law.

Approximately 400 machines had not been inspected in Beaver county, highway officials at New Brighton said.

FAIRVIEW ROAD JOB DEFERRED

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—Slag surface for the highway between Midland and Fairview will not be put on until next summer, it was learned today at the commissioners' office, Beaver. It is hoped to cinder this road and also the stretch connecting Fairview with Smiths Ferry this winter.

Contract for grading the road was awarded about 18 months ago to Ben Franklin company, Philadelphia, but they failed to complete the job and the bonding company has charge.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c to day at the nearest Rexall Drug Store—Larkins, the Drug Man. Advise week's lessons.

NEW FICTION AT LIBRARY

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—Eight new adult fiction books and one volume of poetry have been received at the Carnegie library and are now ready for distribution, it was announced today by Miss Beatrice Burdge, librarian.

"Sunset Gun" is the title of the book of poetry by Dorothy Parker. The fiction included: "God Have Mercy On Us" by William T. Scammon, "The Sound and the Fury" by William Faulkner, "The Red Brand" by Charles Alden Seltzer, "Hans Frost" by Hugh Walpole, "Sincerity" by John Erskine, "Rainbow in the Spray" by Pamela Wynne, "The Bedbury Fort Murder" by George Linnellus, and "A Farewell to Arms" by Ernest Hemingway.

THREE POOL AGENTS NABBED

Two Men Fined, One Committed to Jail.

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—Three men were arrested, two were fined and one committed to the county jail at Beaver, following a clean-up in the Steel City yesterday of agents of the New York Clearing House pools.

Lee McGifford, 31, colored, of 1306 Wylie avenue, Pittsburgh, was held for action of the December term of grand jury under $500 bond by Justice Charles A. Kennedy when arraigned on a charge of peddling lottery pools. McGifford was arrested when blank pool tickets were confiscated after his coupe had been towed to a garage following a collision with a Charles E. Davis, 1039 Mary street, and Wilbert D. Gordon, 1327 Jenny Lind street, McKeesport, were fined $10 and costs each on charges of distributing gambling and lottery devices when they pleaded guilty before Justice Kennedy.

TEACHERS FACE EXAMS TODAY

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—Examinations on the extension course "Methods of Teaching" for the faculty of the Midland public schools will be held this afternoon. Dr. John A. Nietz, assistant professor of history and principles of education at the University of Pittsburgh, is directing the classes.

Dr. Gerald D. Whitney, professor and head of the department of vocational education at the university, will be in charge of next week's lessons.

WOOD LANE SEWER ASKED

Council Votes Direct Assessment For Work.

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—Petition signed by more than half of the owners of lots on Wood lane asking for a sanitary sewer in Wood lane between Fourth and Sixth street was received by the borough council last night. Petitioners were advised a direct assessment would be required. The cost is estimated at $4,500.

Heretofore sewers have been laid with funds from the general treasury.

Pennsylvania railroad was given permission to build a temporary single track from the No. 8 yard track of the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel company plant to the land of the Standard Oil company, East Midland. This track will cross Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth street, running parallel with Midland avenue, but will not cross the main thoroughfare.

Council accepted the confirmation of the Steel City electors at the recent general election of the proposed transfer of a surplus of $34,919.23 from the special sewer bond issue authorized in 1925 to the general borough fund to defray expense of acquiring land and equipment for the recently completed incinerator and to liquidate the costs of grading and draining the Fairview road.

Folowing complaints received from motorists, Borough Engineer Steebner was instructed to confer with Mrs. L. M. Sharpe, Beaver avenue and Seventh street, concerning the height of the hedge bordering her front yard.

Chief of Police William Fox reported that 63 arrests were made last month. Of this number seven were discharged, seven committed to jail, 48 paid fines, while one was held for action of the county court.

BEGIN HEADS CHURCH BOARD

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—Earl B. Beglin, Beaver avenue, automobile dealer, was elected president of the official board of the Methodist Episcopal church at a recent reorganization meeting. Attorney E. M. Wallover and William Johnston were chosen financial secretary and treasurer, respectively.

225 AT AID SOCIETY SUPPER

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—More than 225 persons attended a supper served last night in the basement of the Methodist Episcopal church by the Ladies' Aid society. Proceeds will be contributed to the church funds.

Mesdames George Waight, M. A. Custer and C. A. School were the committee in charge.

MONACA HUNTER BITTEN BY BEAR

MONACA, Pa., Nov. 14.—Martin M. Meiter, of the Broadhead road, is recovering at his home today from wounds in his arms inflicted when a black bear bit him while hunting in Quebec, Canada. Meiter attempted to capture a cub when the mother bear came to the rescue. Both animals were later cornered and killed.

CUPANI GIVEN SEWER CONTRACT

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—Contract for the laying of a storm sewer in Dravo avenue, between Third street and the River road, Beaver, today had been awarded to A. Cupani & Son, contractors of Midland avenue, Midland, by the Beaver borough council. The bid was $6,735.

Wooster President $250,000 Caddy

WOOSTER, O.—Dr. Charles F. Wishart, president of the College of Wooster, was once a $250,000 caddy.

The Rev. E. L. Douglass, son of the late Elisha P. Douglass, who will be $250,000 to Wooster college for Douglass Hall, the new men's dormitory, told this one while at Wooster recently.

"When my father was in Florida, several years ago, Dr. Wishart, a close friend, went to visit him. They went out to the golf links nearby. When they were unable to find left-handed clubs, or the type of clubs which suited Dr. Wishart, he grabbed up father's bag and clubs.

"Come on," he said, "I'll be your caddy and then we can talk as we go around the course."

"After nine holes they came in." "Later father was heard to remark, 'I'm used to paying good caddy fees but that is the first time I ever paid any caddy $250,000.'"

"Yes, I was his caddy," Dr. Wishart laughingly admitted when the story was told. "But I had been promised the money for Douglass Hall long before that day."

Recent estimates show that 97,000,000 of the 238,000,000 acres of farm land in the prairie provinces of Canada have been occupied.

Motorists, Check Up Sale Bill!

Paving the way for the sale of 1930 automobile license plates on December 1, East Liverpool district motorists today were warned by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, of Columbus, that they face a tagless year unless the proper "Licensed Issued" or "Transfer Issued" stamp is on their bills of sale.

Deputy license commissioners have been instructed by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Chalmers R. Wilson, acting under regulations issued by the secretary of state, to refuse licenses on sale bills which do not conform with the law.

With the opening of the 1930 tag sale less than four weeks away, investigations show that many throughout the state failed to insist, when buying their 1929 licenses, that the "Licensed Issued" stamp be properly affixed on the bill of sale. And, too, many who have sold or traded their old car and have purchased a new automobile during the year have neglected to receive the "Transfer Issued" mark.

It will save time and worry for Ohioans if they check up on their bills of sale at once, for they will be refused the maroon and white plates if the law has not been complied with.

A hint to the wise should be sufficient.

Activity In Shipyards

There was a surprising development in October in the shipping under construction in the United States, the increase of 254,126 tons jumping the total to 366,146 tons, a new high figure for the period since the World war, by which the United States was raised from seventh position to second, Germany having surrendered the latter position to this country November 1.

The British yards were leading a month ago with 1,448,355 tons under construction against 112,010 by this country. Germany was second with 235,499 tons, followed by Holland, Japan, France and Russia in the order named. All of these, save Great Britain, have been forced to step aside to give place to the United States, so the American bureau of shipping announced this week in giving out the figures here in presented.

The marked change manifested in American shipbuilding last month is due to the fact that orders were placed for two ships by the Dollar line, two more for the Matson line, one for the Porto Rico line and for six large tankers, the orders thus received being sufficient to keep 2,000 men at work for the next two years.

There have been six years of great depression in the shipbuilding industry in this country," says the bureau's statement, "due to the limitation of armament treaty and the vast amount of government tonnage constructed as a war measure."

The thousands of tons of shipping the government found on its hands at the close of the war naturally had a depressing influence on American shipbuilding, as the government disposed of scores of them, if not hundreds, at prices which were mere fractions of their cost. Many of them were actually sold for junk. This caused stagnation in shipyards, many of which were forced to close down. The bulk of these having been disposed of in one way or another, government ships are no longer a handicap to our shipbuilding. This and the passage of the merchant marine act, based on the Jones-White bill have combined to revive an almost passive industry to activity, as the act provides that loans are to be made at attractive rates of interest and contracts for the transportation of mail are to be authorized when the funds arising from such loans are to be used for the construction of ships and the mails are to be carried in ships built or, as we understand it, reconditioned in American yards.

Automatic Plane Control

What would we have thought, ten years ago, had we been told that, within a decade, an airplane would be flown from Dayton to Washington without a human hand touching the controls? Undoubtedly the majority of us would have said: "Impossible!" Even today, when that feat has been performed, the most of us are inclined to say: "Incredible!"

Yet there can be no disputing the story of the flight of Lieutenant Albert Hegenberger, the famous Pacific flier, who made the flight in a Ford trimotored plane without touching the controls from the time he took off from the Montgomery county capital till he swooped down on Bolling field.

There have been repeated tests of the automatic pilot, the invention of Elmer Speery and William B. Mayo, chief engineer of the Ford company. It has been given fifty hours of flying in all kinds of weather, good, bad and indifferent, but, while all were successful, none of them proved so satisfactory as that made by Lieutenant Hegenberger, who will be remembered as having made the first flight from California to Hawaii.

The most severe test previous to that was made by Lieutenant Hegenberger and Speery, the inventor, from Dayton to Detroit, but on that flight two adjustments were made by the crew in the mechanical pilot's direction, both being necessitated by sudden shifts in the wind and air currents. The Hegenberger flight was the first wholly automatic control trip made.

After reading the story of the flight of Lieutenant Hegenberger, one may the more readily credit the recent prediction of Colonel Lindbergh, that the time is near when planes will not come down until they are forced down by intention. The Speery device will go a long way toward advancing the arrival of that time.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—Another reason has been given a place in this classification although it partakes of abstraction rather than relates to the specific qualifications of the candidate. The classification is made up of opinions as to the comparative greatness of the candidate with no statement as to what that greatness consists of. A handful of voters expressed the opinion that Mr. Hoover was the greatest aspirant for the presidency since Washington, a second, larger group found him the greatest since Lincoln, and a group of numbering several times the other two combined proclaimed him the greatest candidate ever to stand for the office without one single exception. These opinions included defeated candidates as well as successful ones.

Along this general line quite a few respondents to the poll declared Mr. Hoover to be the greatest man since Woodrow Wilson, since Theodore Roosevelt, or since Grover Cleveland. It would be interesting to obtain an elaboration of the expression of two voters, one who found Mr. Hoover the greatest presidential timber since Mr. Taft and the other, since John Quincy Adams.

Quite a number gave as their reasons for supporting Mr. Hoover their classification of him as a "Wilson Democrat."

The foregoing resume had to do with the specific reasons, positive and negative, why voters supported Mr. Hoover. The largest single classification of all is made up of persons who have reasons which while sufficiently affirmative in nature and vaguely eloquent in expression, did not admit of nice classification because of failure to mention specific attributes. Such reasons were listed under a general heading of "General Qualifications."

Typical of the brief expressions resulting in such classification are: "Obvious," "His pre-eminent fitness for the position," "His exceptional qualification," "His record of achievement showing him well trained for the job." Doubtless, if requested to elaborate, nearly all of these persons would name some outstanding quality such as character, world training, engineering ability, or the like which, to their minds, especially recommend him.

Then too, there were a number of respondents whose reasons were not reasons for voting for Mr. Hoover as a person at all. The largest class, of course, was composed of those who merely said they were supporting him because they were lifelong Republicans and that he was the party's candidate. Such a reason, obviously, gives no light on any real reason which may exist aside from pure partisanship, accepting Mr. Hoover as a symbol and no more.

Many respondents to the poll voted for Mr. Hoover because their grandfathers had voted for Mr. Lincoln, their fathers had so voted, and even because some of them had voted for Mr. Lincoln themselves. That seemed, in some occult fashion, to constitute a reason for voting for Mr. Hoover. In the light of the tremendous difference in issues involved, in the characters of the men and their qualifications, and the further fact that the world of Mr. Hoover and the world of Mr. Lincoln are parsecs apart, such a line of reasoning seems no more cogent than one which would dictate throwing the cat out of the window because the rhododendrons are in bloom.

Nor could the reason: "He is the best man," or especially: "I know he will put into practice the principles in which I believe" be safely classified, because so many responses of this nature precisely cancelled each other. For example, for practically every voter who gave his support because of his certainty that Mr. Hoover would find a way to get the United States into the League of Nations there was another who pledged his undying support because of an equal certainty that he would keep us out. Despite the large number of persons who voted for Mr. Hoover because of their belief in his ability and desire to enforce prohibition, there were no few who freely stated that he had won their support because they had confidence that, being a practical man of wide view, he would bring about modification or repeal of the Volstead Law and the Eighteenth Amendment.

Questions and Answers.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Q. How many airports are there in the United States? K. S. E.

A. There are 834 airports in the United States, with an additional 1,035 in process of construction. While some of these are only landing fields there are others which are equipped with runways, flood lights, hangars, hotels, and weather bureaus.

Q. Is there such a place as the Trail of the Lonesome Pine? S. W.

A. The famous Lonesome Pine, celebrated in song and story, stands on top of Big Black Mountain, near Big Stone Gap, where the Trail of the Lonesome Pine connects with Kentucky. It is stated that the tree is beginning to die.

Q. Why don't railroads make provision for dancing to while away the time on a journey? T. R. G.

A. On some of the new "recreation cars" introduced by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad arrangements have been provided for dancing. Radios and phonographs supply the music and the chairs and tables are of the collapsible type so that they may be removed easily.

Q. What did the Schneider Cup Race cost England? T. M. M.

A. The last Schneider Cup race, held in September, cost England $5,000,000.

Q. What kind of a fruit is monastery? A. B. D.

A. Botanically a monastery is known as a philodendron. The taste is similar to both the pineapple and banana. It is brought from Porto Rico and probably is the rarest fruit on the New York market.

Q. What is crucible steel? H. V. H.

A. Crucible steel is a superior but expensive kind of cast steel made either by melting blister steel in crucibles or by fusing together wrought iron, carbon, and flux in crucibles. That made by the former method is the standard for fine tools.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Manhattan megaphone is rarely lifted for the megaphone workers who somehow make the noise. One hears only of the big shots or the failures. The little fish, swimming valiantly against the tide, are entirely forgotten.

Nowhere is the struggle to live decently and comfortably so difficult for those on small salaries. Yet they buy homes, rear families and represent the best in civic consciousness. And, more than any other class, they have made the city the populous, prosperous community it is.

There are the dwellers in little cottages on suburban fringes—store and shop clerks, bookkeepers and others of the so-called white-collar class. They average at the highest $50 a week and the show they make is a marvelous manifestation of self-sufficiency.

The men are those whose grip on their jobs depends largely on personal appearance. Their clothes must be neat and well pressed, their linen clean and fresh and their shoes in constant shine. How they manage so well is a study in thrift.

Nearly all pay dues in some benefit lodge or insurance society. They are making small payments on homes, dress their families in good taste and often have a boy or girl at college. There are few who are not paying for an automobile or a player piano.

Most of them manage to have a pleasant two weeks' outing yearly. They visit the theaters, occupying modest balcony seats, or attend the big movie production once a week. They are seldom in debt and are chief supporters of big savings institutions.

The tinselled side of Broadway is unknown. They have never seen the glitter of a night club, or so-called smart cafe. There is the most regular of all attendance at church. They are the biggest part of The Great Herd and the real New Yorkers. Also the happiest.

Three of the shadiest hotels in New York are named for illustrious figures in history.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

In every sense this is a wonderful age. We think about the airplane, the radio, the telephone and the automobile and marvel over what they mean to us. But the increased safety against disease is of greater personal interest than all the rest put together.

We could get along without the modern inventions. We don't want to and I am glad we needn't forego the advantages they give us. But it would be far more dreadful to have to bear the health conditions of a generation ago.

In 1871 in New York city there were 7,000 deaths from smallpox. At the same rate, with our present population, that would be 30,000 deaths per year. Just think of what that would mean, not only in fatalities, but in the mutilated and scarred faces of the tens of thousands who would have the disease and recover from it.

But now, thanks to vaccination and increased sanitation, New York rarely has a case of smallpox. There hasn't been a death from that disease in New York for nearly 20 years.

It is not alone from smallpox that we have been delivered. Typhoid fever was a familiar scourge a generation ago. As late as 1910 it killed 12 out of every 100,000 of the population of New York city. Today it is only one person out of 100,000 who will die from the preventable disease.

I am proud of what Health Commissioner Wynne, of New York, is doing to wipe out diphtheria. I told you about his campaign against this disease. As a result of the Board of Health efforts to popularize inoculation against diphtheria it has been materially reduced. It will be wiped out if these measures are pressed.

Of course, health officials wouldn't get far except for the cooperation of the public. Each of us has a part to play in this good campaign against disease.

It requires faith and bravery, too, to submit to the treatments necessary to guard against these ailments. But after all they are rather simple. There may be some reaction, but in general it may be said there is not a great deal of discomfort. Certainly not as compared with the comfortable feeling that you are safe from infection.

We should be thankful that the public health officials and laboratory workers are seeking all the time to wipe out disease. We should applaud and encourage them.

Appreciative Commendations.

Should Americans subscribe to and abide by the principles of the United States of Soviet Russia, or those of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Sons of the American Revolution? We feel that the United States of Soviet Russia will not prevail against the labors and endeavors of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution to keep this republic free from the taint of communistic poison.

It is difficult, however, to awaken the American people to the extent and menace of the propaganda campaign which, openly or secretly, is being promoted in this country. America must be awakened. In this connection the National Civic Federation performs a public service in its open letter to the returning members of the American-Russian Chamber of Commerce commission to Russia.

Constrating them upon their declaration against the recognition of Soviet Russia until it ceases its subversive propaganda in this country and asking them to study and report on that propaganda.

Five-sixths of the members of this commission have declared their clear perception of the diabolical character of the activities in this country of the soviet regime which, through its vicious propaganda, is seeking to undermine our institutions and overthrow our government as well.

It is offensive to the American spirit of patriotism and sense of decency to witness the soviet attempt to curry favor with our commercial interests when at the same time they are openly seeking to destroy our institutions. You don't believe that this is true? Well, how do you analyze the following, which is quoted from an editorial in the Pravda, the Bolshevik official organ?

"Proceeding from the lessons of the 1st of August we must try to turn each large or small conflict that may occur in one country or another into a class struggle of an international character. Forward from the 1st of August to new international struggles that will lead the proletarian masses to the last great fight of all."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Questionnaire Evil.

In theory, the questionnaire is an easy and effective means of obtaining information on a given subject. In practice it is rarely as effective as the sender hopes it will be and it is seldom welcomed by the hapless victim to whom it is sent. Notwithstanding the disfavor into which it has fallen from the standpoint of the receiver, the flood of questionnaires does not abate, and if this were not to be known as the age of science, there are times when it seems as if it might aptly be called the questionnaire era.

If the ambitious scholar wishes to complete his study of a given topic in preparation for a paper he expects to publish, he turns to the questionnaire as a ready means of help.

If an eager publicist desires a cross-section of authoritative opinion on a certain matter, he enlists the aid of a questionnaire. The questionnaire, in short, is used in industry, in education, in business, in the professions, in writing, and in other lines and for all sorts of purposes.

A certain kind of psychology has grown up about the questionnaire. The letter that is its inevitable companion invariably begins with an apology for imposing upon the person to whom it is sent. The second stage is to emphasize the importance, real or fancied, of the information that is expected to result from the questionnaire. The third is to express the deep appreciation of the author of the questionnaire for the expected assistance of the recipient, with, some times, a promise of a copy of the article or report planned from the information thus gathered.

The questionnaire is insidious and frequently impertinent. Unless he is naturally hardhearted or has learned to steel himself against it, the recipient too often allows himself to be imposed upon and tries to answer the questions thus hurled at him. Frequently he does so at considerable expenditure of time and effort to himself. Too often the data thus gathered is not worth the paper it is written on and their author in reality merits some cruel and unusual punishment, the constitution to the contrary notwithstanding. If a referendum could be taken on the subject, it is almost a certainty that questioning would be voted a capital crime.—Ohio State Times, a promise of a copy of the

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any drugist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without it, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

"Oh, Yeah!" Comedy On American Bill

Bringing together once more, this time on the spoken screen, the celebrated team of comedians who made millions laugh in the stage production, "Is Zat So?"

"Oh, Yeah!" opens at the American theater today. The actors in question are Robert Armstrong and James Gleason, past masters of the art of slang, who have done more than any other two men to make the world safe for Americanisms in speech.

"Oh, Yeah!" is a fast moving comedy drama with a railroad background, directed by Tay Garnett who, in the last year, has made such notable screen entertainments as "Celebrity," "The Spieler" and "The Flying Fool."

It is packed with comedy, pathos and thrills and, according to advance reports, the characters are portrayed by a cast of outstanding excellence.

Armstrong and Gleason play a couple of roustabout railroaders who pride themselves upon their immunity to the wiles of women.

J. F. Beardslee returned to his home in St. Louis today, after a visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bradfield of Market street attended the theater in Pittsburgh yesterday.

time every word; we have to, if we take a sentence only two seconds late—no laugh!"

These popular radio and record stars have made their first motion picture, "Why Bring That Up?" in which they introduce parts of their past successes and a host of new anecdotes and Markisms inimitable manner.

Then a couple of skirts step into their lives and the fun begins.

Pathos and thrills are added to the story when the buddies, accused falsely, of robbery, are forced to get out of camp and leave two perfectly good gals flat. They take a rattler and the cars start on a runaway jaunt down a mountain-side, ending up in a terrific crash against a stone quarry, which wrecks them physically but patches up their love affairs.

Patricia Caron, a brunette beauty drafted from the stage, supplies the chief love interest, with Zasu Pitts being the party of the second part in a more humorous romance. Others in the cast are Paul Hurst, Frank Hagney and Bud Fine.

"It" Girl Winner In State Feature

A splendid vehicle is provided for Clara Bow, the "It" girl in the picture, "The Saturday Night Kid"—her third all-talking production, now at the State theater.

The play deals with the lives of the lads and lassies who earn their livings in the big department stores of the metropolis. The "It" girl herself is "The Saturday Night Kid." It is a role that calls for a full range of the emotions. She rages, she pouts, she loves. She wears coy costumes and formal ones.

James Hall, who played opposite Miss Bow in "The Fleet's In," and Edna May Oliver, character actress of the New York stage, provide the leading support for the flaming-haired Brooklyn actress. Miss Oliver has appeared in a number of pictures made in the east and took part in 35 Broadway productions. She began her theatrical career in New York in "Mrs. Wicks of the Cabbage Patch."

SMALLPOX OUTBREAK IS SWEEPING CRAWFORD COUNTY

53 ARE ILL AS EPIDEMIC ZONE WIDENS

Bucyrus-Galion Football Game Cancelled.

VACCINATE 2,800

Many School Children Told to Stay at Home.

BUCYRUS, O., Nov. 14.—(INS.)—A small-pox epidemic, which may reach serious proportions, is sweeping Crawford county.

It has forced the cancellation of the Bucyrus-Galion football game, which was scheduled to be played Saturday.

The epidemic started two weeks ago with a few scattered cases. There are 43 cases under quarantine in Galion alone today; four in Crestline; five in Polk township; and one in Whetstone township.

Order Extra Vaccine.

More than 2,500 people have been vaccinated in Galion and 300 in Crestline within the last week. School children, who refused to submit to the vaccination order, have been told to stay at home for at least 17 days.

Galion and Crestline manufacturers are ordering their workmen to be vaccinated and extra supplies of vaccine have been requested from state health officials at Columbus.

Superintendent E. N. Dietrich, as a precautionary measure, recommended that all Bucyrus school children be vaccinated at once, although no cases have been reported here.

Several in Serious Condition.

Pennsylvania railroad officials have ordered all of their employees at the Crestline shops and yards, which are the largest between Chicago and Pittsburgh, to be vaccinated at once if they have not been vaccinated within the last five years.

Several patients in Galion are reported to be in a serious condition, but health officials said there is no cause for undue alarm if proper precautions are taken by the public.

your attitude we are going to introduce such an arrangement employing women instead of men, and if the Brotherhood desired to fight in an effort to prevent this they were ready and willing and would fight to get this system into effect.

"Mr. Wells now states that had we given him to understand at that time that we did not intend to go along with this program that the firm would not have invested $100,000 in this conveyor system.

Labor Saving Machinery Stand

"The question in our minds at this time is this: Was Mr. Wells sincere when he said that regardless of our attitude they were going to put this arrangement in their plant? or how much sincerity can

"Always On The Job"

Columbus Milkman Gets Daylight Job

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—(INS.)—Young men about town will miss a familiar sight when they go home in the wee small hours of morning after next Sunday. It will be the milkman.

Milk deliveries of a local dairy, left a note with all customers this morning requesting their co-operation so that they could deliver milk in the day time, starting at 7:30 a. m.

The note explained that it was too cold to arise at 1 a. m. on winter mornings.

FLIER LANDS ON BOULEVARD

Air Mail Pilot Forced Down in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14.—(INS.)—After flying blindly above the city for more than 15 minutes in a dense fog, Robert Hopkins, 22, air mail pilot on the Chicago-Cleveland route, made a miraculous forced landing at Edgewater Park early today. Hopkins brought his craft down on a boulevard lined with lamp posts. Only one wing of his plane was damaged. Hopkins escaped unhurt.

"I couldn't find my way in the fog," Hopkins said this morning. "So I flipped a coin to see whether I'd take the parachute way or the forced landing. It turned up forced landing and luckily, I made it."

be placed on the statement that had we at the time expressed our opposition to the plan that they would not have put in this arrangement that is now such a bone of contention?

"Mr. McGilivray and I did state that we were in full accord with the program of organized labor generally as enunciated by and through the American Federation of Labor, that labor did not take opposition to any labor-saving machinery that might be utilized in the manufacture of any product.

If, for instance, the introduction of such machinery meant the same greater volume of production on any plant with a lesser number of workers than was required under the old system of operation that labor would recognize such progress, and would cooperate in the fullest extent in an effort to develop such new labor-saving machinery to the highest point of efficiency as a means of assisting the manufacturer to reduce his production costs thus helping to meet competition. The Brotherhood and its officials are committed to this policy; we so stated to Mr. Wells and we so state now to the public generally, but we do not feel disposed to go along with the program which means that because women are women that they should be permitted to displace men at half or less the wages established for men.

It is true the Homer Laughlin China company receded from their intention to employ women on their No. 8 plant. Despite Mr. Wells' contention to the contrary that their firm would not be guilty of any violation of our agreement in the putting into effect the above mentioned plan, we disagree with him on that point. We contend that the agreement does give our people the right to follow any new method or manner of production that may come into existence with the proper adjustment, meaning that is a simpler process is developed that a lesser rate per dozen for producing the same product with the aid of machinery requiring less time and energy is to be agreed upon; also if any change would bring greater hardships that said change would likewise be met by an increase in the rate per dozen for such work.

Story of Dispute

"That the public may get some idea of this whole dispute we present the following:

Tunnel kiln without conveyor, requires 26 kilnmen to maintain a certain schedule of operation.

Cost, 25 kilnmen at 90c per hour—9 hours a day.....$202.50

Cost, 1 kilnman at $1.11 per hour—9 hours a day..... 9.99

Total pay for 26 kilnmen, a day.....$212.49

Five days a week at $212.49 a day would be $1,062.45 a week.

Fifty-two weeks a year at $1,062.45 a week would be $55,247.40 a year.

Tunnel kiln with conveyor, or the new arrangement as contemplated would only require and this is based on information furnished to us by the Homer Laughlin officials, would be only a total of 17 kilnmen as follows:

Cost, 16 kilnmen at 90c per hour—9 hours a day.....$129.60

Cost, 1 kilnman at $1.11 per hour—9 hours a day..... 9.99

Total pay for 17 kilnmen would be, a day.....$139.59

Five days a week at $139.59 a day would be $697.95 a week.

Fifty-two weeks per year at $697.95 per week would be $36,293.40 a year.

Cost of placing without conveyor a year.....$55,247.40

Cost of placing with conveyor a year..... 36,293.40

Saving a year.....$18,954.00

"The $100,000 which Mr. Wells mentions in his article pays for two conveyors to be used in the operation of the two lost tunnel kilns of the Homer Laughlin China company. Therefore the saving as shown by the above figures will be twice said figures for the conveyor or operating kilns which means that the total saving on a year's operation in wages paid as compared with the operation without conveyor equipped tunnel kilns will be twice the above figure or $37,508.00. Truly quite a difference and from what we are able to learn this is just about the saving which the company installing such conveyor systems say should be affected in order to make such installation profitable to any firm.

Refers to Hoover Survey.

"President Hoover as secretary of commerce prior to his election as president, in answer to earnest pleas of men and women of standing in their respective business, professional and vocational positions appointed a committee composed of men and women of the above classes of people as well as religious and labor leaders. This committee was to make a survey as a means of learning the effects of the introduction of labor-saving machinery in industry. The report of this committee is now current in book form and while it would be out of the question for me to go in detail in this article as regards their findings, suffice it to say their conclusions do not coincide with any program which means the employment of women in the place of men at half the wages paid men in the production of the same products under the old antiquated system of production. That such a program not only has a tendency to increase want and suffering due to increasing the already large number of unemployed in our country but that same was unsound from an economic standpoint, and the general well-being of the people as a whole.

"The above is a correct statement of the facts in this unfortunate situation as we see it, unfortunately in the fact that there has been a misunderstanding, between the officials on both sides, but doubly unfortunate in that the officials of the Homer Laughlin China company saw fit to try this case through the public press.

There is a time of course when the facts in such affairs undoubtedly would be of some public information and at such time there could be no harm in the publication of same. In such a delicate situation as this seemingly is, it is our opinion that we need to keep our heads and to exercise the greatest patience, judgment and diplomacy possible at our command if we are to serve the best interests of those directly concerned as well as the community at large.

"Rushing into the newspapers with a one-sided story usually results only in suspicion, animosity and ill-feeling and serves nobody or any community any real and lasting good, and to say the least it is an unwise policy.

"I am sure that the public generally will rebuke any such attempt to have the public embroiled in any petty squabbling of distorted or unfounded statements in such serious circumstances as we seemingly now find ourselves confronted with, meaning both sides.

Explains Agreement.

"What the public generally is interested in is a proper and fair settlement of this dispute. Mr. Wells says there is no violation on the part of the firm in this move to displace the kilnmen by women in their trade. May I state that we, officials of the Brotherhood,

FROMM CASE NEARING JURY

Stark County Man Will Learn Fate Friday.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14.—(INS.)—The case of Charles A. Fromm, Stark county commissioner, charged with having solicited a $200 bribe in connection with the awarding of contracts for the Moly Stark sanitarium, will probably be placed in the hands of the jury Friday, it was indicated as the trial resumed here today.

Completion of the state's case against the commissioner was expected today with the testimony of George Keefe, manager of the Colson-Cleveland company, from whom Fromm is alleged to have demanded his "cut."

Fromm will probably take the stand in his own defense late today.

The highlight of the trial yesterday was the introduction of dictograph records of an alleged conversation Fromm had with Keefe and John Kirk, a salesman, in the offices of the Colson company. The records were presented in an effort to prove that Fromm demanded a "cut" before he would approve payment of a bill due the Colson company for sanitarium equipment.

FIRST BAPTIST REVIVAL ENDS

Several Converted in Services Last Night.

Despite the inclement weather, an overflow crowd attended the concluding service of the First Baptist church revival, West Fifth street, last night. Several conversions resulted.

Not until the final moment of the services was a benediction announced. It was announced at the initial meeting when D. L. Moody and Claude Kelly, of Columbus, song leaders and soloists took charge as assistants of the Rev. A. H. O'Brien, the pastor, that it would be delayed until the final act of the revival. Thus, it was finally made by Mr. Moody following singing by the congregation of the hymn, "God Be With You Until We Meet Again."

Persons present enthusiastically held up their hands in token of an invitation for the return of the visiting singers and directors at some future occasion. An offering of $414.19 was taken during the meeting, supplementing another made on Sunday.

All of those who had aided in the meeting were thanked by Mr. Moody. He expressed his happiness at having had a part in the work of the campaign and declared both he and Mr. Kelly would remember the good they had personally received by the contact with East Liverpool churchmen. Both returned to their homes in the Capital City this morning where they will rest until Saturday when they will leave for Indianapolis, to begin another campaign.

Prayer was offered by Mr. Kelly during the service. He accompanied on the piano as Mr. Moody sang "Good Night Here and Good Morning There" and "What Shall the Reaping Be?" and other numbers.

Announcement was made by Rev. Mr. O'Brien that converts would be baptized at both the morning and evening services next Sunday. He said that at the evening meeting he would continue his series of sermons upon the Book of Acts.

At the conclusion of the service practically all present marched to the altar for the second time where they said goodbye to Mr. Moody and Mr. Kelly.

Discussing the first martyr among the Christian adherents, "Stephen," the Rev. Mr. O'Brien declared that he was able to see Jesus standing at the right hand of the Father because of his faith and the fact that, having unreservedly surrendered to him, he was filled with the Holy Spirit.

composed of three manufacturers and three representatives of the Brotherhood, whose decision shall be final. In the event that the standing committee should fail to arrive at some conclusion, the labor committee of the United States Pottery association and the executive board of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters are to go into conference and endeavor to settle the controversy.

Ready To Carry Out Pact.

"Until such time as all the above provisions of our agreement are carried out it seems to me that all parties to our agreement should feel it their duty to let the law take its course before breaking out in an attempt to beloud the issues involved by resorting to public statements.

"The Brotherhood is ready now as in the past to carry out in letter and in spirit our working agreement. We feel that if same is kept in mind at all times there is no reason why this matter cannot be adjusted satisfactorily to all.

"In conclusion again do I wish to express our very keen regret that this matter has been unwisely brought into public light in the spirit and manner in which it has, and sincerely hope that the public will not be misled or unnecessarily frightened because of what was stated in the newspaper article."

Nazarene Revival
Will Open Sunday

The Rev. B. H. Pocock, Pastor, Arranges Special Programs; Sunday School Plans Rally.

WELLSVILLE, O., Nov. 14.—The Rev. B. H. Pocock, pastor of the Nazarene church, today announced that a two-week revival would open in the church Sunday. He will be in charge of the preaching, assisted by other pastors of the city and district.

Special workers engaged are the Cooper Brothers of Portsmouth, O., who will have charge of the singing. They are also accomplished musicians, having taken part in campaigns in various churches of the district, including the last revival in the local church.

The Rev. Mr. Pocock, prior to assuming the pastorate of the local church, had been engaged in evangelistic work and conducted campaigns in churches of eastern Ohio. The Rev. C. Warren Jones, of Alliance, district superintendent, will speak at the Sunday school rally which will be held on Sunday morning, December 1.

Services will be held every night at 7:30, while three meetings will be held on the final Sundays.

Plans have also been arranged for a series of prayer meetings during the duration of the revival.

Police Phone Ring
Surrounds London

LONDON.—A police ring of 1,000 monster telephone cabinets around London is the latest step in the intense warfare now being waged by Scotland Yard against automobile thieves.

These miniature police offices each contain a cell, writing desk, direct telephone to police headquarters, and telephone for public use.

The next move will be the establishments of a similar circuit at about a fifty mile radius from London. This outer cordon is to be equipped with mechanical means for stopping escaping automobiles.

SHARKEY REFUSES MORE ELIMINATION BOUTS

Demands Chance At Title

Wonders What He Has To do to be Champion.

By Davis J. Walsh.
NEW YORK, Nov. 14. — Being an unreasonable fellow that way, Jack Sharkey, they tell me, has decided that he isn't going to start re-eliminating himself from the heavyweight championship any more than that, when they begin fighting battles on the shirt fronts down at Miami this winter, he will turn up absent in a very marked manner. That is the word that comes out of Boston and it is strangely interesting because you are not compelled to believe what a prize fighter says about anything that can't happen for three months.

An official of the Madison Square Garden corporation, for instance, outlined his heavyweight championship plans to me today and the only thing sure about any of them, according to him, was the appearance of Sharkey in a Miami fight in February. He evidently hadn't heard about Sharkey's decision that, when he fights again, they will have the heavyweight championship waiting for the winner.

The man talks horse sense, at that. He's sitting on top of the world as a result of his three-round knockout of Loughran and he can't see any percentage in jumping off again so that he can stand down there with the rest of the boys who are waiting around with their hats in their hands.

He's Already Qualified.
And unless the Florida law is suddenly altered, they can fight absolutely no championship fight in that state all night long. The Miami business, therefore, could only qualify him for the finals, even if he won, and he figures, not without logic, that he already is qualified.

This gent, as a matter of fact, ought to write in to those mouth wash people and tell them all about himself. He's one of those always-a-qualifier-never-a-finalist fellows, the kind who ask even their best friends in vain for the answer to the riddle. They had him all the way up there with Tunney in 1927 and then they asked him to humor poor, old Dempsey, just as a mark of respect or something. Nobody is sure yet just what happened in the seventh round that night. I'm even afraid that this is of rather nominal importance now. Dempsey got the Tunney shot and Sharkey the right to wait for another year.

He was up there as the leading contender, of course, before he started. I guess that was the trouble. He shouldn't have started. Anyway, he couldn't beat Heeney the first time out, took a rather big beating from Risko and, when Tunney made his magnificent exit, Sharkey was up in Boston, hearing a great prize fight that nobody saw.

This year, they sent him in with Christner and he won that. Next they sent him in with Stripling and he won that. Then, after Schmeling had failed to extricate himself from all the elbow macaroni the boxing commission wound around him, they sent Sharkey in with Loughran.

Garden Outlines Schedule.
And he won that. I can't say that I blame him for wondering how many more he has to win before he wins, so to speak.

In view of his confusion on this point, he may be interested in the Garden's tentative plans, which are as follows: The winner of the Scott-Von Porat fight, December 9, to receive consideration for the Miami shot; the winner of the Griffiths-Paulino fight in Chicago to get the same break, with the possibility of the two survivors coming together before the Miami date; the Griffiths-Paulino winner as a possibility here against Risko late in December, with the same end in view; neither Schmeling nor Campolo likely to figure in the Miami plans.

I should say that this latter ought to make Mr. Sharkey a very resolute fellow about Miami. For one thing, he wants only a title fight and that means Schmeling. For another, he thinks that all he has to do is blow very firmly upon Campolo and he'll knock him into the third row, balcony.

Rockets Will Pass Against Coast Eleven

U. S. C. Holds Workouts Between Train Stops.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—With only two days separating University of Southern California and Notre Dame from their intersectional game here, the two teams today were finishing their strategy for attack.
At South Bend, Ind., where Coach Knute Rockne keeps his squad between games, the Irish were concentrating on an aerial attack upon which they will depend largely for victory.
Much stress was laid on the Notre Dame pass offensive in yesterday's drill. Likewise, the regulars were put through a long defense drill against the Trojan's pet plays. Carideo and Bernie Leahy were hurling most of the passes.
Joe Savoldi, fullback, who was injured in the Georgia Tech tussle took part in the drill last night and will play Saturday.
Southern California, drawing closer to these mid-western parts, took two 15-minute workouts yesterday when train stops permitted. Although the drills were confined to light passing and booting exercise, they served to break the monotony of the ride.

Riggs Meier and Lee Donley, center, Jim Bing tackle, Bob Runyan, fullback and Bill and Dave Query. Wooster has played seven conference games. Victories have been won from Oberlin, Ohio Northern, Hiram, Otterbein and Case. Wooster lost to Akron and tied Mt. Union.

Pirate Icers Expect to Show Montreal Rivals Real Outfit

Manager Frederickson Is Counting on Playoff Berth This Season.

FORT ERIE, Ont.—Frank Frederickson, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirate skaters of the national Hockey League, predicts a big surprise for the Montreal Maroons when the Pirates return to Pittsburgh for the league opening on November 16.

Frederickson, who has been putting the Pittsburgh outfit through its paces here for several weeks, bases his prediction on a fact that unless injuries creep into the squad between now and the opening, the skaters will be in the best physical condition of any Pirate team to take the ice since they entered professional ranks five years ago.

Surprising Development.
The puckmen of Pittsburgh have shown surprising development during the short training period and with the addition of a number of new faces the mediocre squad of last year is expected to step out and do some real skating and scoring.

After a recent practice scrimmage, Frederickson remarked: "The boys shape up as a real threat for a playoff berth this season." He said that with a little tapering off in training they will be ready to battle last year's league leaders to a standstill.
With the addition of Archie Briden, red headed speeder from Calgary, and Owen Ahearn, 20-year-

SWIM CHAMP

Six Gridders In Last Game For Bethany

Bisons End Season in Wesleyan Tilt.

BETHANY, W. Va., Nov. 14.—When the Bisons encounter W. Va. Wesleyan, Saturday at Buckannon, it will mark the last time that six regulars of the Bisons will play for the Green and White eleven.

Robert Roe, fullback, James Imel, halfback; Kenneth Baker, halfback; George Burwell, center; Jack Thompson, end; and Ballard Damschroder, end, are the men who will don their uniforms for their last collegiate game. All of these men have been a power of strength and have been constant in their play at all times.

The Bison mentors have a problem on their hands which has caused them considerable trouble. The two varsity tackles, Latto and Dopko were injured last week and will be unable to participate in Saturday's struggle. This leaves a great gap to be filled in the forward wall but who will fill this gap still remains to be seen.

After driving his men at top speed all week, Coach Nuss will bring the preparation to a close tonight. The Bisons record this season has been rather discouraging but a win over the Wesleyan machine will make the final standing more favorable, and it is with this in mind that the Bison mentor is in hopes of taking over the Wesleyan aggregation before ringing down the curtain of the 1929 campaign.

"Bull" Wins Match In Columbus Ring

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—Bull Montana, the ugly man of Hollywood, made his debut in a Columbus wrestling ring last night and today he had been credited with a victory over Pat "Irish" McCarty.

Montana took the first two falls in a three-fall match. The scuffle was very ordinary as far as wrestling bouts are concerned.

In a "beauty contest" Montana lost his title of the "world's ugliest human" to Charlie "Ape Man" Grip.

In the semi-final, cyclone Mackey won a one-fall match from Jack German, welterweight, in 12 minutes and fifteen seconds.

Another preliminary found John Kilonis, the original "Rough-House" candidate, facing "Ape Man" Grip in a handicap. Kilonis had agreed to pin Grip's shoulders to the mat twice within 30 minutes and when he failed the decision was given to the "Ape Man."

Weather Hampers Columbia Workouts

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Continued rain today threatened to hamper Columbia's workouts for Saturday's game against Pennsylvania. In spite of a heavy downpour, the team went through its longest and hardest workout of the season yesterday. Joe Stanczyk, fleet fullback, has virtually recovered from his foot injury, but he is still watching the scrimmage from the sidelines.

Booth Will Start Against Princeton

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 14.—Yale will go into its game against Princeton Saturday with Albie Booth, star back, in the opening lineup, according to announcement by Head Coach Mal Stevens. Long passing drills for the Yale varsity and scrubs are scheduled for today's practice.

Webber Piloting Firemen

Old Laughlin Player Heads Grid Team.

TARENTUM FIREMEN, Pennsylvania grid combine booked by the East Liverpool Pros for a Sunday game at Sherwood will appear here under the management of Leo Webber, former Laughlin City Industrial baseball league player.

The Pro leaders were not aware of the fact that the former Newell outfielder was active in grid affairs until they went after the Firemen for a game. The Tarentum team first was recommended by Tom Birks, Pittsburgh grid expert, as a local attraction.

The Pennsylvanians, because of their record, are able to command a fairly good guarantee wherever they travel but Webber reduced the "ante" in this instance because of his former associations here. The Tarentum eleven has defeated Odds and the Pleasant Valley Smilers, who played her. Their goal line has been crossed but once.

Manager Webber, who formerly played ball alongside Chappie Finley, Pros' coach and under the management of Purle Dalley who a couple of years ago piloted the Newell ball club, declares he'll show the Potters a real football team.

Tigers to Battle Reserves Tonight

Name of the local independent football team formerly known as the Tigers has been changed to the Golden Star Tigers, the team's management announced today.
The eleven is sponsored by the Golden Star Dairy Products store. Tonight the Tigers go into action against the high school Reserves in a practice game at Patterson Field. The contest is scheduled for 4:30 p. m.

Battle of Fullbacks In Pitt-Plaid Scrap

Parkinson of Panthers and Karcis of Tartans To Match Plunges in Stadium Classic.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—When the prowling Panthers of Pitt and the rugged Tartans of Carnegie meet in the Stadium this Saturday, it will be for the championship not only of the city, but of the East.

If Pitt wins they will be rated as the best team in the country, Notre Dame excepted. They have bowled over all kinds of opposition, and a win over Tech will establish their ability without question.

They have yet to play a team, however, that will be as tough as these men of Steffen's are going to be. It is an old saying that a fair Tech team can beat a good Pitt team. Tech has never outplayed Pitt, but they have always outthought the Panthers.

The question, is however, can fight beat the great natural strength of the Panthers. There is so much power out there ahead of the ball, that it looks like it will take a lot more than a winning mental attitude to stop it.

With Eyth, Karcis and Armentrout in the lineup, the Tartans will have the best offensive backs to oppose the Panthers this year. Despite the fact that these boys have been held down by both Notre Dame and Washington and Jefferson, it is believed that Steffen has been holding back, waiting to take a fall out of Pitt.

One of the most interesting sidelights of the battle will be the individual contest between the two fullbacks, Parkinson of Pitt, and Karcis of Carnegie. Parkinson was out of the Tech game last year with injuries, and will have to make a good showing to convince the Plaid that he is as good as he is rated.

Karcis will have two jobs to perform. He will have to keep the

Giants' Backers In Suit

Question Loans Made To Officials of Club.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Action has been brought against the New York Giants by William F. Kenney and 13 other plaintiffs asking an accounting of the club's funds, it was learned today.

The plaintiffs charge, according to Leo Bondy, treasurer of the Giants, that Charles A. Stoneham, president of the team, failed to pay a sufficiently high rate of interest on money borrowed from the club, and also object to items which they construe as loans being made to John McGraw, manager and vice-president of the Giants.

Harvard Will Use Holy Cross Plays

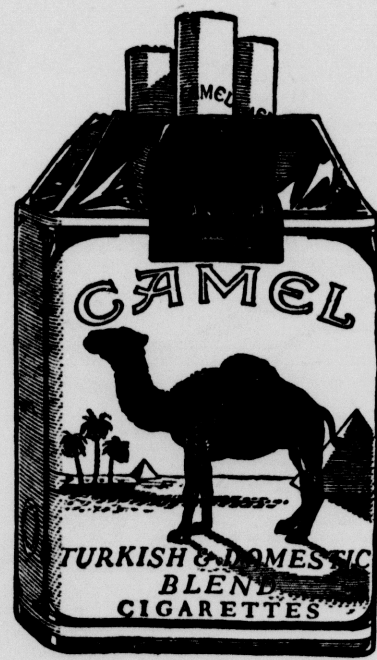

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 14.—Harvard will undergo a strong workout against Holy Cross plays today in preparation for Saturday's game. The coaches say the team is entirely recovered from the strenuous battle against Michigan last Saturday. The recent stress on forward passing is expected to be continued in the workouts between now and Saturday.

and galloped 55 yards for the third marker.

Elmer was used more, Lindell says, in carrying the ball and had several long runs, being generally run out of bounds near the goal line. He led the backs in ground gaining.

"Lindy" agrees that the dope on the E. L. H. S.-Martins Ferry game was O. K. Bellaire beat the Potomac 12-0; Ferry beat Bellaire 2-0, and so the Ferris' 14-0 win over the locals was according to Hoyle.

Steelers to Replay McKeesport Game

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 14.—Replay game between the National Tube and Pittsburgh Crucible Steel company soccer teams will take place Saturday afternoon at Moran field, McKeesport. These squads battled to a 1-1 tie last Sunday afternoon at the Twelfth street park here. The Tube machine has been organized for at least two years and have recruited several veteran players, while the Crucible men entered the West Penn cup rules only this season and have shown great ability.

Local team members will travel to the field in automobiles Saturday and will be accompanied by many Steel City fans.

The Famous FRIGIDAIRE
"Cold Control"
and other added features
cost you nothing

KNOWING that Frigidaire is equipped with the "Cold Control" you would expect it to be higher in price. But it isn't. You would expect to pay more for the surplus power of the Frigidaire compressor. But you don't. And you'd be willing to pay something extra for the features that make Frigidaire so quiet. Yet they cost you nothing extra.

These improvements have added immeasurably to the convenience, satisfaction and value offered by Frigidaire. Yet not one cent has been added to the price.

Can there be any doubt that Frigidaire gives you more for your money?

Call at our display room. See a complete demonstration of the new Frigidaires. Let us give you prices. Let us tell you about the liberal monthly terms. Come in today.

AUTO LICENSE AIDES TO MEET

State Officials Will Confer on New Regulations.

LISBON, O., Nov. 14.—A state conference of deputy automobile commissioners and their aides with Secretary of State Clarence Brown and Motor Vehicle Commissioner Chalmers R. Wilson will be held at the Neil House, Columbus, at 10 o'clock Friday morning. New regulations will be discussed.

Deputy Automobile Commissioners Elmer E. Walker and Albert Ward of Lisbon; A. P. Morris, Salem; James S. Hilbert, East Liverpool; C. W. Arnold, Wellsville; C. B. Fuhrman, Columbiana; S. A. Hart, Salineville; Leslie Morris, Leetonia; L. M. Kyes, East Palestine, and A. C. Robins, East Rochester, will attend.

With each set of license plates issued in Ohio this year a 48-page primer, or a booklet, containing motor vehicle laws, will be given.

"We have 3,000 copies of this primer to distribute from Lisbon, and other registrars have a supply," Walter said today.

$15,000 ASKED IN MAN'S DEATH

LISBON, O., Nov. 14.—Fred K. Jackson, administrator of the estate of the late Robert Jackson of Negley, has filed a $15,000 damage suit in federal court at Pittsburgh against C. E. Montgomery of Midland, Pa., as an aftermath of a fatal traffic accident on the Negley-Rogers road on last July 9.

Jackson, a laborer, was struck by a truck owned by Montgomery.

ROAD JOB SUIT IN HIGH COURT

Contractors Carry County Case to Columbus.

LISBON, O., Nov. 14.—Counsel for the Madden Lumber & Construction company, of East Palestine, went before the state supreme court at Columbus today for the purpose of arguing a motion to certify the record of the case against the county commissioners. The county was represented by Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baucknecht.

The company, awarded the contract for the construction of the Peace Valley bridge on the New Waterford-East Palestine road, filed a claim for "extras" which was disallowed. Suit was filed in common pleas court, and the company obtained a judgment. The case then went to the court of appeals, and the lower court was reversed.

The commissioners held that the company bid on the specifications and that the county was not at fault if the company had to perform certain labor not specified in the contract.

Judgment is Confessed.

LISBON, O., Nov. 14.—Judgment by confession on a cognovit note in favor of the plaintiff for $300 and costs has been taken in common pleas court in the case of Frances Morgan, executrix, against C. S. Park.

Judgment for $3,125 Rendered.

LISBON, O., Nov. 14.—In the foreclosure action filed by the Home Savings & Loan company against O. D. Miller and others, judgment for $3,125.43 and costs has been entered in favor of the plaintiff.

Foreclosure Suit Settled.

LISBON, O., Nov. 14.—There has been a settlement out of court in the foreclosure of a mortgage petition filed by Blanche C. Pritchard, executrix, against W. C. Lewis.

Real Estate Transfers.

LISBON, O., Nov. 14.—Real estate transfers have been filed as follows:

John Wilson and wife to Charles Hopper and wife, lots 101-2 in Glenmoor addition, St. Clair township, $5.

Pa. 43,554 acres in Leetonia, $10.
J. W. Spahr and wife to Mary Mountford, four lots in Glenn's addition, St. Clair township, $4,300.
V. N. Meckall to P. V. Mackall, 85 acres in section 21, Yellow Creek township, $1.

G. C. Baxley, trustee, to Dolph Smith, lots 18 and 19 in Overlook Heights addition, Knox township, $1.

George Allensworth and others to Charles Altwater and others, lot 20 in village of Unity, $10.

James J. King and wife to Harry Neigh and others, lot 52 in Trimble Heights addition, Salem, $1.

Frank J. Kays and others to Ronald Jackson and others, 80 acres in section 36, Franklin township, $5.

Edward C. Hollenshead and wife to Anthony F. White and others, lot 74 in Bell Park plan, Fairfield township, $1.

Willis R. Hole and others to Cornelia G. Waggoner and others, lot 552 in Adams addition, Lisbon, $1.

Sebring

Members of the Jug club were entertained at the home of Miss Mildred McClarren, Maryland avenue, Monday night. Two tables of bridge were in play. Miss Dora Siskles won first prize and Miss Vivian Heidegar second. Miss Stella Alberts was a guest. A two-course lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Hill's class of the Methodist church numbering 25 motored to Uniontown Monday where they called on their former teacher, Mrs. O. J. Moore, who taught the class when the Rev. Mr. Moore was pastor of the local church.

Beta Phi Sigma fraternity initiated seven pledges on the public square Friday night at 8:30.

The bond issue for $20,000 for an addition to the Maple Ridge school building was defeated by Smith township voters by 89 ballots. The trustees who were elected are: Samuel S. McCamon, A. F. Heacock and Albert Yoder.

Mrs. Walter Dummire and daughters, Mrs. Chester Wilt and Mrs. Naughtman went to Kattanning, Pa. Monday where Mrs. Dummire's sister is critically ill.

Dr. T. B. Hartzell, Minneapolis, is visiting his sister, Mrs. E. B. Fritchman, Belmont road.

Harold Davenport, Staffordshire, England, has come to Sebring to make his home with his sister, Mrs. Ada Simpson, South Side.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Senevel and daughter, Bernice, of Salem, have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schindler, South Side.

Jack Daniels and John Shuster attended the district meeting of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company of Cleveland.

"STOMACH Relieved!"

A cut and dried, paid-for testimonial? No! A genuine, whole-hearted expression of gratitude by one of the thousands of users of Acidine. Read this amazing experience of Mr. Bushnell:

"Health Laboratories, Inc., Pittsburgh, Pa.
"I suffered from gastritis and many nights would have to get up two or three times. I would be in such pain and misery that I could not sleep or lie in bed. One doctor wanted to operate on me but I could not see it that way.
"After using a small and large can of your product I felt so much better that I bought four more cans. It is doing wonders for me. I will not be without Acidine in the house if I can help it.
"I gladly send you the letter hoping that it may help somebody else recover their lost health and I certainly want to thank you for what Acidine has done for me."
(signed) H. W. Bushnell, 1248 W. Elizabeth St.
Detroit, Mich.

What ACIDINE has done for others, it will also do for you. It remains without peer as a relief of stomach troubles, including indigestion, acid stomach and constipation, acid rheumatism and kindred stomach ailments. ACIDINE is sold by your druggist only under a money-back guarantee to fit your case. ACIDINE IS GUARANTEED TO RELIEVE COLDS IN TWELVE HOURS.

Childbirth

a happy event

"Mother's Friend relieved me of the strain and the pain that came from the stretching of the skin and tissues," writes a young mother. "I did not suffer as I have heard other women say they did. My doctor recommended it to me." Countless thousands of expectant mothers have had the same experience with "Mother's Friend." It is a scientifically-prepared skin lubricant and pain-reducer. "Mother's Friend" is the prescription of an eminent obstetrician, and has been in use for over 60 years.

You owe yourself the comfort "Mother's Friend" gives. It is so soothing and relaxing! It is used externally only—gently rubbed into the skin. Brings relief promptly. Very valuable in keeping the breasts in good condition. Also puts you in fine shape for the approaching ordeal. "Mother's Friend" is on sale at all drug stores. $1.25 per bottle. Try a massage with it to notice the ease and comfort it gives. A booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" will be mailed in plain envelope, on request. Department at Washington."Do your Christmas mailing early!"This is the advice given by the postoffice department at Washington in a bulletin to Postmaster John T. Wood, today, in preparation for what is expected to be one of the biggest business years in history of postal workers.There will be no mail deliveries on Christmas day. In order to relieve congestion which usually results during the week preceding the holiday, patrons of the postoffice are urged to mail their packages at the earliest possible moment.List of instructions.
The following instructions regarding Christmas packages hasbeen issued by the postoffice de-partmentAll parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine.Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks, should be reinforced their full length by strong strips of wood tightly wrapped and tied or otherwise sufficiently wrapped to withstand transportation.Cut flowers: Place in strong suitable boxes of wood, tin, or heavy corrugated cardboard. Wrap with tissue to retain moisture.Candies: Inclose in strong outside boxes or containers.Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments or tools must have points and edges fully guarded to prevent injury to clerks in handling or damage to other mail.Articles easily broken or crushed must be crated or securely wrapped. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in-around and between the articles and the outside container.Glassware, fragile toys, crockery must be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.Cigars: Ordinary boxes of cigars wrapped in paper only will not be accepted. Pack in a manner to prevent damage by shock or jar.
Wrap in corrugated pasteboard or similar material.Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery will not be accepted for mailing. Wrap or pack carefully, according to contents, and plainly mark all such parcels "Perishable."Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, postoffice box or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should beNew U. S. Senator panied McCulloch up the aisle to receive the oath of office from Curtis.placed in the upper left hand corner of every piece of mail.Limit of Weight.

Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail. Affix the required amount of postage in the upper right corner.No parcel may be more than 84 inches in length and girth combined. For delivery locally and in the first, second and third zones, 70 pounds is the maximum weight; in all other zones, 60 pounds.During the holiday time the volume of mail increases approximately 200 per cent. Therefore to assure delivery of their Christmas presents, cards and letters by Christmas day the public should shop and mail early. Do your Christmas shopping so that you can mail your gifts, greetings and letters to relatives, friends and loved ones at least a week or 10 days before Christmas, according to the distance.Patrons sending a quantity of Christmas cards, say 10 or more, should prepare and mail them two or three weeks in advance, as millions are mailed and they can not be handled and delivered if mailed only two or three or four days before Christmas.Christmas cards and gifts addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed in no event later than December 20; within two days' travel, not later than December 18; within three days' travel, not later than December 16;
for more distant points, not later than December 14. Parcels and cards for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 21.
Parcels and envelopes may be indorsed, "Please do not open until Christmas."Special Delivery Service.
The use of a Special-Delivery stamp will assure delivery on Christmas Day, if mailed at the proper time. Special-Delivery Ser-vice means the handling and transportation of parcels with the same expedition as first-class letter mail, as well as the immediate delivery
by affixing a Special-Delivery stamp of the proper denomination, or its equivalent in ordinary stamps, in addition to the regular postage. When ordinary stamps are used, the words, "Special Delivery" must be written or printed directly below, but not on the stamps.Uninsured parcels eight ounces or less in weight may be mailed in street letter or package boxes at all classified stations and branches and at such numbered stations as are designated to receive parcels.
Parcels weighing over eight ounces can not be mailed in street boxes, but must be taken to the main post office or classified station or branch.Written matter in the nature of personal correspondence can not be inclosed in parcels.
Communications attached to parcels: A letter placed in an envelope, addressed to correspond with the address on the parcel and fully prepaid at the first-class rate, may be tied or otherwise securely attached to the outside of the parcelin such manner as to prevent separation therefrom and not obscure the address on the parcel.Parcels to Foreign Countries.
All valuable domestic third and fourth class mail should be insur-ed. Insurance fees: Value not exceeding $5, 5 cents; not exceeding $25, 8 cents; not exceeding $50, 10
cents; not exceeding $100, 25
cents.Coin, currency, jewelry, and articles of similar value should be sent as sealed first-class registered mail.Domestic third and fourth class matter may be sent C. O. D. from one money-order post office to another. Sealed domestic mail of any class prepaid at first-class rate of postage may also be sent C. O. D.
either as registered or unregistered mail.Fees for all unregistered C. O. D. mail (in addition to regular postage): 12 cents, when amount to be collected does not exceed $15; 15 cents when the amount does not exceed $50, and 25 cents when the amount does not exceed $100. The C. O. D. fee also covers insurance for actual value against loss or damage up to $10 for a 12-cent fee;up to $50 for a 15-cent fee; and $100 for a 25-cent fee.Parcels of mailable merchandise may be sent (subject to certain limitations and conditions) by international parcel post to all foreign countries except Tristan Da Cunha. Foreign parcel-post packages should be mailed at the main office or large classified stations.
Owing to the long sea travel as a rule and to customs inspection abroad, foreign parcels should be very carefully packed and should be mailed in November.Health Day Planned

Thrilling Story of Romance of Modern Girl

By Hazel Livingston

What Has Gone Before.

Nancy Hollenbeck, young, beautiful and romantic, becomes cynical when her mother warns her against marrying a poor man. She causes comment when she gives up Mat Tulley and accepts the ardent attentions of Jack Beamer who plans to divorce his rich wife to marry Nancy. On a mountain trip with relatives, Nancy toys with the affections of a handsome ranger, Roger Decatur. In spite of her expressed desire to marry for riches only, she suddenly gives way to Roger's passionate love-making and marries him. At first she is happy in his mountain cabin, but when he leaves on a long trip, she flees to her home. Without informing her family of her marriage, she re-enters the old social life. At a party, Jack Beamer monopolizes her. But Nancy repulses Beamer's affectionate embraces.

Now Go On With the Story.

September passed in a backwash of weddings. Announcements

Rich, black cakes in chaste white boxes. Family arguments over presents.

Nancy was a bridesmaid twice.

"That means you can't be a bridesmaid for May Belle at Easter!" mama worried.

"Three times a bridesmaid, never a bride," Nancy quoted, trying to mimic mama. "I may surprise you and be a bride myself before then!" And she laughed a little wildly.

Mama shut her mouth tightly, so that her thin lips were just a line of blue. Very well, if Nancy chose to be secretive, let her.

Once they were a family. They all worked together, sharing the same ambitions, the same disappointments, the same joys. Well, maybe not Peter. He had always had a queer, inner life of his own. His poor relations. His bills. His dabbings in stocks. The girls got their reticence from him.

But until this summer she had known their every thought. Now even the girls had secrets from her. They pounced on mail before she had a chance to see it. They kept things from her. It was a house divided, each pulling a separate way.

Nancy was getting letters from a ranger she met in the mountains. He wrote on the back of the envelopes: "From E. R. Decatur, Gales Flat, Cal." Mama looked at them suspiciously when she brought them in from the mail box. Gales Flat! What a place to be getting letters from.

"Of course it was interesting to exchange one or two letters, dear," she told Nancy in her gentlest voice, "but I wouldn't carry it too far. After all—a ranger!"

"A college graduate, with a diploma, and everything, mums!" "Well, a man like that . . . I hardly think . . . Nancy you aren't serious about him?"

Serious about Roger . . . Roger, whom she saw all the time, in back of her eyes. Who haunted her dreams, who dogged her days. Roger, to whom she stretched out her arms in the night . . .

Nancy's eyes filled. Roger . . . to talk about him, even to say his name would help. It's so hard to be silent . . . Would mama understand? She had been young and pretty once, surely she must have known what it's like to love . . . surely she must remember . . . Her mouth trembled. "Suppose I am serious about him," she began softly.

She groped for the words. Roger's strength, his gentleness, his brown skin, his crisp, sunburnt hair. The way he laughed with his eyes. She wanted to tell it all at once, and she lifted her head, faintly, smiling, wondering where to start in, wondering how much she dared to tell . . .

"You don't know," she whispered, "you don't know what he's meant to me. Why he—"

Shyly she lifted her eyes to mama's. The eager words froze on her lips.

Mama's mouth was working painfully. A thin finger eased the high boned collar she always wore to conceal her scrawny, withered

TWO HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

After a night spent in drinking gin in Chicago, George Vogel, with his brother, August Vogel, accompanied by Mrs. Fay Allison, set out on a holdup tour which ended in the slaying of Lyle Perrenoud. Mrs. Fay Allison, who has been identified as the driver of the car on the holdup tour preceding the murder. (Inset)—George Vogel, who is charged with the murder.

neck. She said in the hushed, unnatural voice she used when forced to speak of things she considered not quite "nice." "You must be careful never to speak of a gentleman in that way. It doesn't mean anything, mama knows, but anyone listening would have thought . . . that is . . . your being away from home at the time, and a ranger and all that—"

Nancy, you didn't permit any family—? You didn't let him . . . kiss you?" Nancy sat there, eyes sad, hands clenched, fighting for composure, fighting to keep from screaming, half sick with the violence of her own emotion.

Oh well, she wasn't surprised . . . it was what she should have expected from mama, mama who knew but one virtue . . . She rocked in her misery, wringing her hands . . . scarlet, humiliated . . . to think she had almost told her!

Mama reddened, too. Dark stories of the secret sins of the youngest generation rushed to her mind . . . a certain movie all about flaming youth . . . an almost forgotten memory of one night just before she was married when Peter had brushed her maidenly resistance aside and kissed her until her breath was gone, and her knees gave . . .

"Nancy! I won't have it!" she cried shrilly. "You won't have what?" "I won't have you talking about this ranger as if . . . I mean . . ."

Nancy, after the way mama has brought you up, so sweet and refined—"

For the first time in her life Nancy was really impudent to her mother. "Oh, shut up!" she shouted, and ran out, slamming the door.

Somebody gave Mat two tickets for the opera, and Mat, who was almost stone deaf and hated seeing fat sopranos cling to stocky tenors' necks, thought he wouldn't go. He had work to do in the laboratory. His experiment was coming along nicely. An advance report on its progress had been published in "Science." There had been flattering comment. With a little luck, and not too much distraction, he would finish before next summer.

Thinking of distractions made him think of Nancy Hollenbeck. She was the most distracting thing he'd ever known. What in the world was she up to? Didn't she know that every one was talking about her and Beamer? Didn't she care?

He wondered if he could get her back from Beamer if he tried hard enough? A little shiver of excitement chased down his spine. He got as far as the telephone . . . The devil with her! Why should he break his neck on her account? No doubt about her turning him down for Beamer . . . Little gold digger!

He stood gripping the telephone, smiling grimly. Well, if she was going to be hard-boiled, he would show her that he could be, too.

He asked Louise. Mrs. Hollenbeck had a start of pained surprise when she saw him, slim and dark, in his evening clothes. Something about their unmistakable quality, the easy, natural way he wore them . . . had she blundered? Would it have been better to let Nancy drift on with him?

How well he looked with Louise! A distinguished couple, really more Louise's age, she thought, breathing more easily. And with Lou married it won't be long before Nancy . . . In her mind's eye she saw them walking down the aisle at St. John's . . .

At the opera, right up front in the golden horseshoe, Louise slipped out of her evening cloak, and turned a radiant face to Mat. "Isn't this fun? I can't wait for it to start!"

For the second time Matthew Tully saw her strange, elusive beauty. Her brown satin hair, softly coiled at her neck. Her finely chiseled features. Her sweet, unconscious dignity. His heart warmed to her. Under the cover of her cloak he reached over and pressed her hand. A sympathetic, affectionate squeeze that said more than any words he could find.

The lights went out. The conductor lifted his baton. When the music ceased, Mat applauded with the rest.

There were stars in Louise's eyes. He found himself marveling that he had never really appreciated her before.

A tall man with a large nose, and a shiny bald head, squeezed down the aisle. Louise stood up to let him pass.

Out came an immense moist hand. "This is a surprise!" The tall man stopped and beamed at Louise. "Well," he cried jovially. "Well, well!"

He stood there, blocking the aisle, right in front of Mat. He seemed unable to tear himself away.

"Mr. Lachman," Louise introduced him.

Mr. Lachman gave Mat his dead fish of a hand. "Glad to know you," he mumbled, without drawing his gaze from Louise.

When the evening was over he drove them to the ferry in his car. It was a large, expensive looking car with nickel trimmings, cigar lighters and cut glass vases, and a chauffeur in front.

"He's papa's friend. Wasn't it lucky we met him?" Louise asked.

ed happily, when they were on the ferry going home. "The car must have cost at least a million. Did you ever see so many ash-trays and things? Everything but a cuspidor!"

Matthew Tully did not smile. "So you like his car, too," he Needless Pain!

Nowadays, people take Bayer Aspirin for many little aches and pains, and as often as they encounter any pain.

Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works!

And Bayer Aspirin tablets are utterly harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that; they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to Bayer Aspirin for relief.

Bayer Aspirin is always available, and it always helps. Familiarize yourself with its many uses, and avoid a lot of needless suffering.

GOITER

A remedy for goiter has been developed by The Physicians Treatment & Advisory Company 3234 Sanborn Bldg., Battle Creek, Michigan, which is very efficient in the treatment of this unsightly and dangerous disease. Many of the largest and most hideous goiters begin to recede almost immediately after the treatment is begun. They gradually get smaller, and in many cases are entirely gone in a comparatively short time. It is equally efficient in cases of toxic and so-called inside goiter. The treatment is harmless and anyone can use it with safety at home.

A 44-page illustrated booklet on the Causes, Dangers and Non-Surgical Treatment of Goiter, issued by this company, fully explains the treatment and will be mailed free to any interested sufferer.—Adv.

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants.

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, and instead take a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisprated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisprated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bisprated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

Only the Cream Reaches Top Says "Be-A-Snob" Advocate

And It's All Right to Marry the Stenographer Instead of The Boss' Daughter, Too, Says Educator.

BOSTON, Mass.—Those who want to be the cream, will be the cream; those who are satisfied with being skimmed milk will fall by the wayside.

So said Professor Robert E. Rogers, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, advocate of the "Be-a-snob" theory, and exponent of men's rights for the youth of the country, in a message to collegians of Boston University.

"Somebody has said that if the ordinary college student of today is the cream of the country, God help the skimmed milk," he said. "Those who want to be the cream will be the cream. Those who don't think much about it will fall in with that great company of men and women who by the time they are 40 years old, are nothing but Peter Pans, fundamentally and permanently adolescent."

Working Students

"The type of college student who is combining with a kind of study, that will earn his bread and butter that vague thing called culture, is the hope of our country today."

Anyone can acquire a technical perfection. You want it to be education, which is a vastly different thing. For every one of the students in college today, there are a hundred ghosts, a hundred people who for one reason or another dropped by the wayside in their education and never got any where."

Professor Rogers said that if college students habitually read the "cheap magazines that clutter our news stands, the literary garbage which the superintendent of police never reads for he is too busy suppressing literature" their whole being will be influenced for life.

"If you habitually look to the radio and the movies for your emotional outlet, all that material is going to fertilize your personality until you really become the shallow product of these shallow things."

Must Be Better

"You've got to be better than those that fell by the wayside, or else you have no business in college."

"That's what I meant when I said to marry the Boss' daughter. I didn't say don't marry the stenographer, by the way. But you must be better than those without your advantages."

"About the time I made my address that caused so much comment," Professor Rogers continued, "a woman in the far west was quoted much along the same lines. I think she was the head of some department for women police. 'I want my girls,' she said, 'to be the best kind of girls who are too good to want to enter beauty contests.'"

"That is my hope for college students," said the professor, "if this be snobbery, make the most of it."

Approves November Flower Planting

COLUMBUS, O.—Planting flowers in November, with chilly blasts whistling through bare boughs, isn't as silly as it sounds, in the opinion of Victor H. Ries, extension specialist in horticulture for the Ohio State university here.

"Seeds of many annuals may be sown in the fall in cold frames or outdoor seed beds for early bloom next spring," says Ries. "Try Cosmos, Cornflower, California Poppy, Blue Salvia, Calendula, Argemone, Cleome, Callisopsis, or Nigella. Mulch them lightly with leaves or straw."

"Seeds of perennial plants may also be sown out of doors in November. They should be protected with a few leaves or some straw during the winter."

MOTORISTS ARE SPREADING THE NEWS OF A NEW KIND OF VALUE

NEW CHRYSLER "66" BROUGHAM, $995

THE fact that you can buy an up-to-the-minute CHRYSLER as low in price as the new Chrysler "66"—the lowest priced six ever to bear the Chrysler name—is good news in itself.

But the best news of all—the thing motorists are walking about—is what this new Chrysler "66" gives for your money.

It is a Chrysler all the way through. Beautiful body of French-roof type; 7-bearing crankshaft; weatherproof four-wheel hydraulic brakes; exclusive new spring shackles with patented rubber core—silent.

A family doctor's laxative is the sensible choice!

YOUR health is too important! You can't afford experiments with your delicate bowels when a coated tongue, bad breath, gas, headaches, nausea, feverishness, biliousness, lack of appetite, and no energy, warn of constipation. This applies not only to grown people; it is particularly the case where young children are concerned.

That's why a family doctor's laxative is always the safe choice! Only a doctor knows just what will cleanse the system of men, women or children without harm.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is prepared today under strict supervision from freshest herbs and other pure ingredients, and exactly according to Dr. Caldwell's original prescription.

He was a family doctor for more than forty-seven years. He specialized in the disorders of the digestive tract. He tested this prescription in thousands of cases. Men liked its quick and thorough action; the children liked its pleasant taste; old people praised it because it never gripes.

Today, millions of families rely on Dr. Caldwell's judgment in the selection of their laxative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is now sold in all drug stores. It is the world's largest selling laxative.

TOURIST GOLD BLAZES TRAIL ACROSS FRANCE

36 Million Dollars Spent Last Year By Visitors.

HOTELS PROFIT

But Business This Summer Shows Decrease.

PARIS.—Tourists left a trail of gold when they visited France last year, according to the French expert, Monsieur Maynial. In actual figures, the sum totalled over thirty-six millions of dollars which went to different hotels, transportation services, amusements of various kinds, purchases in shops, principally for women's wear, and petty expenditures, such as cabs, stamps, telegrams, etc.

This summer's report which is just being made up, is, unfortunately, much less satisfying. It is very difficult to measure tourist traffic with anything like accuracy, for account has to be taken of people who are simply passing through the country and it has been found that more people are passing through to Central Europe after only brief stays in France.

Hotel proprietors say that business with foreign visitors during the past summer season fell off by 30 per cent in comparison with the previous year, while an inquiry among the principal personalities in the luxury trades leads to an estimate that their receipts from foreigners have fallen by from ten to twenty per cent.

The National Tourist Office has at present a budget credit of only 4,000,000 francs (about $160,000). And this, according to some of the authorities, is one of the principal causes of the trouble. If France must keep pace with her rivals, she should provide in her next budget at least two million dollars for tourist propaganda both at home and abroad.

The city has just set aside more than one thousand dollars for the special instruction of Parisian children in the care and cultivation of flowers. The education of the children in the subject of horticulture is to be seriously taken up and it is hoped that more families will thus be encouraged to provide window-boxes and buy small plots of ground in the suburbs where gardens can be fashioned by the children after school hours and during the week-end.

The Louvre Museum has recently opened a new room devoted to objects from the Greco-Roman and Christian periods of Egyptian civilization which followed the native dynasties. It has received the name of "La Salle Boulot" after a little Egyptian village from which most of the antiquities come.

And the museum of Fontainebleau Palace has recently set aside two rooms for the works of Rosa Bonheur, celebrated painter of animals who, at the age of nineteen shocked a large number of serious French academicians by painting in pants.

She painted animals after nature which hadn't been done before her time. Besides many of her important pictures, the Museum contains some of her personal souvenirs, such as some medals, a fan, her watch and her hair which she bobbed.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

"RADIO'S SWEETEST VOICE"
Handsome in appearance as they are in performance!

THREE things decide any radio purchase . . . appearance, performance, and price. The rich, piano-finish beauty of the Consoles cannot be appreciated until seen—the sweet, clear, full-volume, round-toned reproduction cannot be adequately described—it must be heard . . . Price? The price speaks for itself.

So—before you decide on any radio—give yourself the thrill of a free AIRLINE Demonstration! Screen grid in the "nine" tube console, very latest RCA and other patent features, all-electric operation, and tonal reproduction we challenge other sets to equal at $25 to $100 higher in price!—and all this means that you may enjoy delightful radio entertainment these long, cold evenings for just about half what you expected to pay! Come in and see these 1930 Models, or phone us for a demonstration NOW.

A remarkably beautiful cabinet, with genuine piano finish in two-tone walnut, with rich decorative overlay. Famous Super-Dynamic Speaker gives the last word in clear, rounded, mellow reproduction! All-Electric; sliding doors on cabinet; latest RCA Patent features; priced to save you as high as $50 in price!

This Delightful TABLE MODEL

It's just the set you've always wanted for that empty corner or table space. Its rich, dull-shaded metal cabinet, in gold-colored finish, combines beauty with compactness and complete shielding of all parts. Magnetic type Cone Speaker; eight tubes with rectifier. Lovely, full, clear tone and ample volume make this the most satisfying set you can buy for the money.

Compare this 8-Tube CONSOLE with others!

Like other models shown, built under latest RCA and Vibro patents. Famous push-pull amplification with two 171A Power Tubes. Beautiful two-tone walnut veneer cabinet with matched sliding doors. Single illuminated tuning dial. Unusual selectivity—performance that rivals instruments of $25-$50 higher price! Be sure to see and hear this wonderful instrument.

CIVIC MUSIC SOCIETY OPENS SEASON DEC. 8

Fifty-piece Boston Women's Orchestra Engaged.

TICKETS MAILED

Initial Offering on Sunday Night in Theater.

Fifty-piece Boston Women's Symphony orchestra, directed by Ethel Leginska, will appear at the Ceramic theater at 9 p. m. Sunday, December 8, in the first of the Civic Music association's course of concerts for the 1929-30 season. Season tickets to members enrolled in last spring's membership campaign, have been mailed from the Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

Ethel Leginska, conductor of the orchestra, began her stage career at the age of 16 when she joined Nellie Melba in England, where she was born.

Her success was so sensational as a pianist that a year later she played before King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra of England. Shortly after America heard of the great genius of this young English girl, she received a call to make her debut in New York.

Played With Damrosch Orchestra. Although barely out of her teens, she was invited to play with Walter Damrosch and his great orchestra. In Boston her enviable career was well known. She played with the Symphony orchestra a number of times and later gave concerts at Symphony and Jordan Halls—attendance records of which are yet to be equaled by any pianist with the exception of Paderewski.

Later she became well known throughout the world as a composer. Her works have been played by every noted musician the world over. She is now in the act of writing a symphony and an opera called "The Rose and the Ring." Her greatest achievement came four years ago when she led the Munich orchestra in Germany. Ever since she was a little girl studying under the great master Yeshetzky she entertained ambitions to take her place among the great conductors of the world.

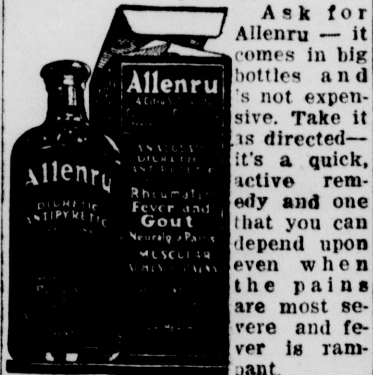

Leginska Spectacular Figure. After her success as a conductor was established she was invited to be guest conductor of all the great orchestras of the world, and now she has organized and successfully presented for the first time in history a complete symphonic orchestra, every chair of which is filled

"I HAVE never bought or sold a share of stock speculatively in my life, except one small lot that I bought early in life. I determined to sell all my interests in every outside concern and concentrate my attention upon our concerns in Pittsburgh. Such a course should commend itself to every man. For a business man especially the rule would seem all-important. His mind must be kept calm and free if he is to decide wisely the problems which are continually coming before him. Nothing tells in the long run like good judgment, and no sound judgment can remain with the man whose mind is disturbed by the mercurial changes of speculation. It places him under an influence akin to intoxication. What is not, he sees, and what he sees, is not. He cannot judge of relative values or get the true perspective of things. Speculation is a parasite feeding upon values, creating none."—Andrew Carnegie

A DOG was crossing a brook with a bone in his mouth. Looking into the stream he saw, as he supposed, another dog with another bone. Desiring to possess that also he made a snap at it, when lo and behold! the bone he was carrying dropped into the water and straightway sunk to the bottom.—An Old Fable.

This dog "took a chance" (as some of us humans sometimes do) and lost all he had. Maybe you at some time have grasped at a shadow in the form of a get-rich-quick scheme that promised everything but became a total loss.

Two-day Vacation is Planned Over Thanksgiving.

NEWELL, W. Va., Nov. 14.—One thousand Grant district school pupils, including 650 in Newell, will be given a two-day vacation over Thanksgiving and probably seven or ten days during the Christmas session, it was announced today.

Definite dates of the Yule vacation will be set by the district board of education at its meeting on Tuesday night, Nov. 26. Schools will be dismissed on the Wednesday preceding Thanksgiving, Nov. 28, and sessions will be resumed on Monday, Dec. 1. For the Christmas holidays, class sessions usually are suspended on the Friday preceding the holiday, while studies are resumed on the day after New Year's. Recommendations for the two holiday periods will be submitted to the board of education by Superintendent A. D. Osborne.

Longer Skirts Slow Tempo in Ball Room

The new long skirts that all women have finally adopted for evening wear are already having their effect upon the latest dances. Slower tempo is evident upon all of the dance floors of the smart cabarets in Paris. The new six-eight step, a kind of a slow fox-trot which tries to combine syncopation with dignity, has replaced the Charleston, Black Bottom and Blues.

Even the waltz has become slower so that the women can dance more comfortably in their new frocks.

Starvation Faced Him Till "Orange Root" Came Says—

Mr. Earl Miller, Victim of Combined Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles, Could Keep Nothing on His Stomach, Had No Strength At All, and Was Slowly But Surely Failing in Health—

His Condition Thought Hopeless, Took a Course of "ORANGE ROOT" and Today is Rid of All His Health-sapping Maladies — Feels, Looks and Acts Like a Different Person, Says.

"This ORANGE ROOT" is the greatest TONIC on earth, for it has restored me to HEALTH after all the specialists and other medicines failed," says Mr. Earl Miller, of 548 R. R. street, East End, East Liverpool, Ohio. Mr. Miller is very well known here, being employed at the Yellow Ware Pottery company. He continues: "I suffered dreadfully with severe stomach, liver and kidney troubles for years. I had terrible headaches and dizzy spells. My appetite was gone, and what little I did eat, seemed to disagree with me for my food formed a heavy mass in the pit of my stomach with formation of much gas in my throat and chest. I could scarcely breathe at times. The gas pressure caused palpitation of my heart and worked me almost to death. My sleep was restless and I was nervous and irritable all the time. I suffered with biliousness and constipation, due to a faulty liver which failed to carry off the poisonous bile. Black spots before my eyes and dizzy spells beset me every day. My kidneys did not work right, for I had to rise frequently at night. I would suffer awful backaches and stiffness in my joints on rising each morning. My vitality was gone, I was a nervous wreck and being unable to keep anything on my stomach: I was slowly starving and failing in health. I tried all the specialists and medicines I ever heard of, but failed to improve. ORANGE

MANSION OR HUMBLE HOME

Mrs. Franklin H. Hardinge, wife of the Oil Burner king, with her two sons, Troy Weems, eight, and Norman Weems, six, whom she was unable to keep and support them after she had obtained a divorce from Sergeant Troy Weems in Nashville early in the year. A legal battle has started to decide whether the boys stay with their grandmother in a weather-beaten farmhouse or go with their mother to a millionaire's mansion in Chicago.

Better than the Best standard tires you ever used!

THE new Miller Geared-to-the-Road balloons are guaranteed to outwear any tires of equal price.

This unsurpassable guarantee is based on the fact that before these tires were announced to the public—they were road tested against 13 of the leading tires with the following result—

In every case the new Miller Geared-to-the-Road outlasted and outwore the competitive tire, and at the end of the 3,000,000 mile test, not one Miller tire carcass had failed.

The why of a clear skin

A clear, smooth, lovely skin speaks of rich, red blood within. It is Nature's outward reflection of internal healthfulness. First impressions cannot be good without a clear skin—first impressions are quickly made and are not soon forgotten. Old friends may excuse pimples and secretly sympathize but new acquaintances may not be so charitable. Skin blemishes are not inviting. They cannot be covered up. They embarrass. Hold people back. Steal away joy and happiness. If you are unfortunate in this respect you owe it to yourself and friends to remove the cause. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired. More important still, strong healthy blood nourishes the body and fights against infection and disease.

How S.S.S. BUILDS STURDY HEALTH

YOUTHFULNESS and BEAUTY

are dependent upon a strong body—firm flesh—a clear skin

Loss of strength, flabby flesh and skin eruptions are but a few of the symptoms of a deeper and more dangerous trouble—a lack of the normal count of red-cells in the blood.

NOTHING is more beautiful, more inspiring, more glorified than the supreme manifestation of Nature in the human body. Those sparkling eyes, that clear skin, that firm flesh, and that vigor of action denoting vitality, bespeak loveliness and internal healthfulness.

And so, is it not our birthright to be masters over our own bodies? To be sure not much is said openly about personal handicaps—skin blemishes—sallow complexion—poor health—but secretly they influence many important affairs.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of skin blemishes, lack of appetite, flabby flesh and loss of energy as an indication that the body's power of resistance is low—that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

When you build back your red-cells to the correct number you will have followed Nature's own way of regaining Health. Your skin should clear up and you should have the body strength to fight against disease and infection. You should get hungry again and sleep soundly. Firm flesh should take the place of that which was once flabby. You should feel strong; your nerves become steady.

This is why so many thousands, seeking youthfulness and beauty, have taken a course of S.S.S. It helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state.

S.S.S.
THE GREAT BLOOD TONIC SINCE 1826

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. It promotes constructive metabolism (healthy body building). It increases the number of red-blood-cells. S.S.S. is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and is easily assimilated. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. Take S.S.S. at mealtime. You will be delighted with its blood-building and tonic effects. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical. © S.S.S. Co.

It is always SUMMER-TIME in your KITCHEN

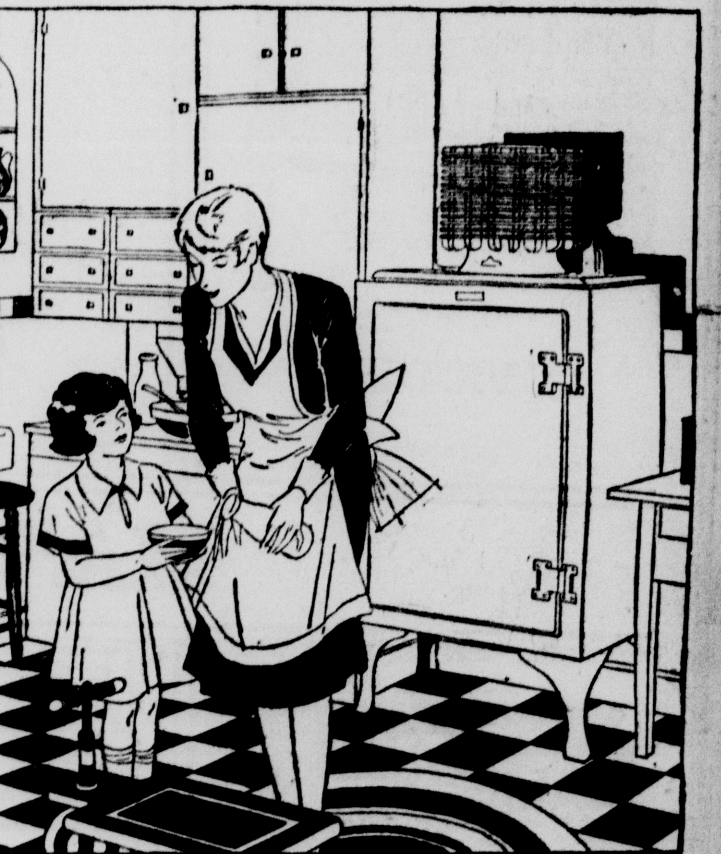

IT'S always summer-time in your kitchen. It's never cool where there is a stove. And the dangers of food contamination are present as long as the temperature in your refrigerator can rise above fifty degrees—the safety point.

Faithfully, quietly, automatically the General Electric gives you the perfect refrigeration that safeguards health. It makes plenty of ice cubes, operates without ever needing to be oiled, creates no radio interference. And it has an accessible freezing regulator. Important, too, is the fact that it is the only refrigerator which has an all-steel cabinet, "built like a safe" to protect your food.

It stands high on legs that allow room underneath for mop and broom. And it is so easy to keep clean inside! Its smooth one-piece lining has no seams... every edge and corner is rounded.

Come in and examine the various models—there's a size and style to fit your needs and your kitchen. Just a small down payment can put a General Electric Refrigerator in your home.

THIS RECORD STANDS ALONE
There are now more than 350,000 users of General Electric Refrigerators—and not one owner has ever had to spend a single dollar for repairs or service.

Tune in on the General Electric Hour broadcast every Saturday evening from 9 to 10, Eastern Standard Time, over the NBC network of 42 stations covering the entire United States.

WILL PUT SIGNS ON LIMBERLOST

BLUFFTON, Ind. — Limberlost Trail, extending from the estate of the late Gene Stratton-Porter, famous novelist, at Rome City, Ind., through here and ending at Portland, Ind., will soon be marked by 100 signs.

Instead of an arrow to denote directions, a feather will be used because of Mrs. Porter's devotion to bird life in the Limberlost. In her famous story, "Freckles," she used the thought, "a feather fell to earth and a soul was born."

Plans are eventually to make the Trail a beautiful drive, heavily shaded and with beds of Mrs. Porter's favorite flowers along the way.

Hanoverton

The J. S. Faloon warehouse and store room in Main street, has been declared unsafe and the work of taking it down will start the first of the week. The building is over a hundred years old and one of the landmarks of the town. The work of taking it down will be done by a Pittsburgh firm.

Automatic Grade Signals Are Asked

ALBANY.—The New York State Automobile association has sent a request to the public service commission to order automatic signals installed at every railroad grade crossing in the state.

"With more than two million automobiles registered in New York state and hundreds of thousands of out of state cars adding to the congestion each summer, new methods must be adopted to cope with the accident problem," the Automotive association declared.

Triangle Tires

BUILT

All Triangle Tires are Heavy Duty Construction. We believe that nothing can take the place of plenty of good materials in the tire.

If a tire is good, more material makes it better.

That is why we have added extra plies to our tires, have made the treads thicker and have increased the number of cords per inch in the carcass.

Present day driving conditions with Quick Getaway, Fast Pickup, High Speed and Sudden Stopping demands something extra in tires.
